KETTLE ISLAND, Ky., Mar. 31.—(AP)—The bodies of five miners killed in an explosion in the Pioneer Coal company mine Saturday were discovered by mine rescue workers today one and one half miles from the entrance. The workers were forced to leave the bodies in the mine and return to the surface without identifying them because of the density of the carbon monoxide gas.

KETTLE ISLAND, Ky., March 31.—(AP)—Spurred by hope they would reach in a few hours 16 men entombed by an explosion Saturday far back in the Pioneer Coal Company mine here, but almost despairing that any were alive, rescue workers today toiled desperately repairing the damaged ventilating system.

Large Valley Tract Bought By Chicagoans

EDINBURG, March 31.—(AP)—One of the largest real estate deals recorded in the lower Rio Grande Valley has been consummated whereby a group of Chicago capitalists purchased the 10,000-acre Adams tract of unimproved land on the highway three miles west of Harlingen for a reported sum of $2,500,000. The purchasers planned to improve the land, construct paved roads, plant part of it to citrus and then sub-divide it for sale

NOTED PILOT CONTINUING FLIGHT ACROSS CONTINENT IN GLIDER BEHIND PLANE

TUCSON, March 31.—(AP)—Capt. Frank Hawks, transcontinental glider pilot, en route from San Diego to New York, was forced to return to the Tucson airport this morning shortly after he took off for El Paso, Texas, when the rope attaching his glider to the tow plane broke.

TUCSON, Ariz., March 31.—(AP)—Safe here after a bumpy 400-mile ride over the first lap of his San Diego-New York town-glider fight, Captain Frank Hanwks, noted aviator, made ready today to take off in his motorless plane for El Paso, Texas, for his second overnight stop.

The transcontinental glider pilot cut loose from his tow-plane over Tucson at 7.25 o'clock last night, 10 hours and 45 minutes from the time he left San Diego, Calif.

Bobbing around like a cork ship on a stormy sea, the flier trained his lead-plane from Phoenix through a stiff gale and landed here after dark on a strange field marked only by a glare of automobile headlights. In the hop from the coast city, Capt. Hawks made two landings—one at Yuma, Ariz., to refuel the tow plane, and again at Phoenix, to eat lunch.

Towed by a small two-place biplane piloted by J. D. Jernigan, Jr., Capt. Hawks took off from San Diego at 7.45 a. m., yesterday. Before noon the mountains of Southern California had been crossed, the first refueling shtop has been made and the air train was riding a stiff breeze toward the Arizona capital. The Phoenix landing was made at 2:05 p. m., and the takeoff for Tucson was at 5.20 p. m.

Captain Hawks said an altitude of more than 5000 feet was reached in clearing mountain ranges en route. At Phoenix, he cut loose from the lead plane at 3500 feet and thrilled spectators with a 30-minute glider demonstration before landing.

The air train itinerary calls for an overnight stop Tuesday at Sweetwater, Texas; Wednesday, Tulsa; Thursday, East St. Louis, Ill.; Friday, Columbus, Ohio; Saturday, Buffalo, N. Y., Sunday New York City.

Giant Rubber Combine May Be Formed Monday

AKRON, Ohio, March 31. —(AP)—Predictions that the way would be opened for a $500,000,000 merger of rubber companies at today's annual meeting of the Goodyear Tire and Rubber company persisted in spite of denials.

Increase of the common stock from 1,450,000 to 5,000,000 shares was to be proposed to stockholders, and it was rumored this was a preliminary to consolidating Goodyear, the United States Rubber company and Seiberling rubber.

BRITISH STATEMENT ON SECURITY PACT CAUSING COMMENT

FRANCE DISTURBED BY STATEMENT OF NO FURTHER GUARANTEES

LONDON, Mar. 31.—(AP)—Extreme pessimism over the outcome of the Anglo-Franch negotiations concerning a security pact was expressed in American conference circles this afternoon. It was generally understood the British and French had virtually reached an impasse.

Secretary of State Stimson visited Foreign Minister Briand of France during the afternoon and expected to see Prime Minister MacDonald this evening. The nature of his discussions with the French foreign minister was not divulged.

French conference circles also were extremely gloomy late today. Foreign Minister Briand, however, thus far has declined to put himself on record as being pessimistic.

The difficulty was said to revolve about interpretations of article sixteen of the covenant of the League of Nations which the French want defined so as to give them concrete guarantees of secur-

KENTUCKY FARMER SLAIN BY SHERIFF IN RAIDING HOME

MAN SHOT IN BACK AS HE FLED WHEN OFFICERS CAME TO RAID HIS HOME

RICHMOND, March 31.—(AP)—Deputy Sheriff Lloyd Lane, 34, who yesterday shot and killed Ammon Williams, 34, after a liquor raid at Williams' home, was arrested today on a charge of murder. He was released in custody of Sheriff Albert Bogie until his examining trial Friday.

RICHMOND, Ky., March 31.—(AP)—Deputy Sheriff Lloyd Lane, admitted slayer of Ambrose Williams, 30, a farmer shot in the back as he fled when his home was raided yesterday by four officers in search of liquor, faced an inquiry today with indications he would plead justfication in that Williams refused his shouted demand to surrender.

In Williams' home, at Owsley Fork, about 14 miles from this central Kentucky seat of Madison county, the officers said they found a small still and a gallon of liquor, and this they had for exidence at the examining trial scheduled for today before County Judge Goodloe.

The home is almost exactly on the Madison-Jackson county line, and when the officers approached and exhibited a state search warrant, Williams dashed away, with Lane in pursuit, into Jackson county. Several shots were fired at him by Lane, it was said afterward by Deputy United States Marshal Boyd Sandlin, and he had run 800 yards, according to Sandlin's estimate, when he fell, pierced by one bullet.

DEFENSE MOTION DISMISSAL DENIED IN MARCHAND CASE

DEFENSE OPENS TESTIMONY IN BUFFALO "WITCH" MURDER CASE

BUFFALO, N. Y., March 31.—(AP)—The defense rested today in the trial of Lila Jimerson, Indian woman accused of complicity in the murder of Clothilde Marchand, after three hours of presentation of evidence.

BUFFALO, N. Y., March 31.—(AP)—Defense counsel, opening its case this morning, moved to dismiss the indictment charging Lila Jimerson, Indian woman, with being an accomplice to Nancy Bowen, aged Cayuga, in the slaying of Mrs. Henri Marchand. The motion was immediately denied by Judge F. Bret Thorn.

John V. Mahoney of defense counsel, made the motion on the ground that "the people have wholly failed to prove a homicide by the defendant or to prove any connection in this crime between Lila and Nancy."

The motion was made after Prosecutor Guy B. Moore had reopened his case briefly by placingg on the stand Brant Schultz, farmer off Perrysburg, living along the border of the Cattaraugus reservation, to testify he had given Lila one ounce of chloroform on March 6, the day before the state charges Clothilde Marchand was beaten and chloroformed by Nancy Bowen.

The first witness for the defense was Percy W. Darby, vice president of the Marine Trust Company of Buffalo, who said he was familiar with various types of handwriting as part of his work and had made a study of this subject. He was called by the defense to testify there was no marked similarity between Lila's handwriting and the "Mrs. Dooley" letters telling Nancy that Clothilde Marchand was a witch and should be killed, which were introduced by the prosecution.

Under questioning of John S. Knibloe of defense counsel, Darby declared "a very great dissimilarity" existed in the specimens of handwriting submitted him.

ATTEMPT TO RETAIN HER BOYISH FIGURE CAUSE DEATH MUSICAL COMEDY CELEBRITY

NEW YORK, March 31.—(AP)—Miss Allyn King, former musical comedy star, was dead today, and Broadway traced the series of events which ended in her suicide back to a contract which demanded that she keep a boyish figure to hold her job.

She died yesterday from injuries suffered when she jumped from the fifth story apartment of her aunt in Greenwich Village.

In 1921 Miss King weighed 145 pounds. Then the boyish figure became the vogue on Broadway. She reduced to 115 pounds.

She signed a contract which read:

"It is expressly made a part of this agreement, and is an essential part thereof, that if, at any time you should, during he term of said arrangement, incerase in weight more than 16 pounds or decrease in weight more than 10 pounds, or let the dimensions of any part of your figure vary more than one-half inch from the following: Weight 115 pounds, neck 12 1-2 inches, bust 34 inches, upper arm, 11, lower arm 7 1-2, waist 26, hips 34, thigh 18, calf 12, ankle 8 1-2, then and in that event we shall have the right to cancel this contract upon giving you one week's notice."

Miss King lived up to her contract six years. To do it she resorted to various diets and remedies. She went without food, without sleep, without water and took reducing pellets.

In 1926 her health failed, and she was sent to a sanitorium where she remained for nearly two years.

Shortly before she died she explained her act by saying:

"I did it because I will never return to Broadway."

She was 30 years old.

FAMILY QUARREL LEADS TO SLAYING OF THREE SUNDAY

BROWNSVILLE, Ky., March 31. —(AP)—A man and his two nephews who used pistols to settle an altercation were dead and the son-in-law of the elder was in jail today as the result of an affray that occurred yesterday on a highway about eight miles north of here at Bee Springs.

In a fusillade that followed a dispute said to have started over the son of the elder man, the latter, James Stroud Meredith, 42, fell dead, and then Meredith's son-in-law, Curley Johnson, 25, shot and killed the nephews, Isaac Duvall, 32 and Floyd Duvall, 26, his brother.

Johnson was brought here and placed in jail. He told officers "It's hard to tell who fired the first shot," he declared he fired only when the two Duvalls had fired twice at him. All the men were farmers. Johnson told Sheriff James Reed the altercation was over an offense said to have been committed by Meredith's son, but would not go into details.

Lampasas Man Charged With Wife's Murder

LAMPASAS, March 31. —(AP)—Claude Strickland, Lampasas business man, was a liberty under $10,000 bond today, charged with murder in connection with the death of his wife. She was found dead at their home on March 19, her throat and body slashed.

Seek Cause Crash of Pleasure Boat With Coastwise Steamer

ST. HELENS, Ore., March 31.—(AP)—Federal steamboat inspectors today began an investigation to determine blame for the collision of the excursion barge Swan and the coastwise steamer Davenport in the Columbia river which turned a merrymaking throng of 286 passengers on the pleasure craft into a panic-stricken mob and resulted in the death of three women and one man.

Three others, two men and a youth, were missing and 12 were in hospitals here and in Vancouver, Wash., suffering various injuries this morning.

The collison occurred yesterday as the double decked barge, towed by the tug Dix, was returning to Vancouver, Wash., from Longview, Wash., where the excursionists had participated in the day's festivities attendant to the opening of a new bridge.

Opposite St. Helens, while an orchestra's strains mingled with the laughter of the merrymakers, the prow of the lumber laden steamer Davenport loomed out of the darkness. A woman screamed, there was a deafening crash as the ship plowed into the forepart of the barge, and the tug Dix sank to the bottom of the river as the pleasure craft lurched suddenly to the starboard.

When the barge floated down river and lodged on a sandbar and the panic which prevailed among the passengers was quieted, a check revealed that Mrs. J. E. Hagedorn, 65, J. E. Larson, florist, Mrs. E. G. Lundy, and Mrs. Stanley Stone, all of Vancouver, were dead. Richard Belland, Jr., son of Captain Belland, owner of the excursion boat; Jank Hoffman, deck hand on the tug, and Sergeant R. G. Anderson, bandman, Seventh Infantry, Vancouver barracks, were missing.

Bodies of the four dead were recovered, Mrs. Lundy's several miles down river.

Dozens of persons were hurled into the murky waters of the Columbia. Dozen of others walked over a gangplank to the sandbar when the barge came to rest, while still others escaped death by swimming more than three-quarters of a mile to either the Washington or Oregon shore of the river.

EVACUATION OF FOREIGNERS FROM WIDE AREA NEAR

CLAIMED EIGHT THOUSAND BANDITS UNDER NOTORIOUS LEADER OPERATING

SHANGHAI, Mar. 31.—(AP)—Foreign dispatches from Nanchang, capital of Kiangsi province, today said the menace of bandits was increasing and that a general evacuation of foreigners was anticipated.

Official quarters telegraphed that Nanchang was immediately in danger of falling into the hands of the outlaws.

Advices from the Standard Oil company of New York said that Klukiank, on the Yangtse river, likely would pass into the hands of the brigands should they attack the city. These advices said government defenses virtually were non-existant.

An American Y. M. C. A. representative telegraphed from Nanchang that 8000 bandits under the notorius Chu Teh were operating in Northern Kiangsi and were likely to enter Nanchung Chu Teh has been blamed for the banditry in Kiangsi, and the provincial government recently announced it would pay $50,000 for his capture.

Other advices stated that service on the Nanchang-Kiukiang railway, which affords a means of evacuation, had been interrupted.

Control Other Districts.

Reports from still another source said brigands were in control of the Kan river district from Kanchow, where 16 other missionaries are besciged, to Nanchang, making water travel most precarious.

Unconfirmed advices were that

BUSINESS SHOWS IMPROVEMENT OVER ELEVENTH DISTRICT

MONTHLY FEDERAL RESERVE REVIEW MORE OPTIMISTIC THAN FOR SOME TIME

DALLAS, March 31 —(AP)— The monthly business review for the eleventh federal reserve district, issued today by the Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas, reflected a noticeable expansion in the demand for merchandise at retail in larger centers, increased production in some lines of industry, and a material improvtment in the agricultural situation.

February department store sales, contrary to the usual seasonal trend, reflected a sizeable increase over the previous month and were only slightly less than in February a year ago, the report said. Production and shipments of coment were materially larger than in either the previous month or the same month last year, and production, shipments and new orders for lumber were larger than in January.

"While the valuation of building permits issued at principal cities was considerably under that of a year ago, it was greater than in January,' the review stated. "Distribution of merchandise at wholesale, however, continues to lag as consumer demand in rural sections is still at a low level and retailers are showing no disposition to in-

Store Closed After Negro Kills Woman

DALLAS, March 31.—(AP)— Tony Todaro's grocery and market was closed today.

"I can't bear going back to work where my wife and I struggled so hard for a living for the kids," he said. There are five children.

His wife was shot down Saturday night by a negro robber after the bullet passed through Tony's shoulder as he leaped in front of her, trying to shield her.

Mrs. Todaro from the family living quarters adjoining the store had heard the negro command her husband to hold up his hands. She got a pistol and started into the store. The negro fired. She fell dead in her wounded husband's arms. The negro escaped with $3.

Hanks said he hacked his wife and her grandfather, described as nearly 100 years old, to death with an axe and beat the 14 months old son of the slain woman with a hammer. He said he killed his wife because she was "awfully mean" and the grandfather, known as "Shaugabee" when the latter attacked him. He gave no reason for killing the baby.

ity in the event they are attacked. The British and French thus far have been unable to get a definition of the term 'aggressor" upon which interpretation of article sixteen must depend.

LONDON, March 31. —(AP)— A sharp repercussion was produced in French headquarters by the statement issued by a British official spokesman yesterday in which it was declared absolutely impossible for Great Britain to undertake any further military commitments in connection with the proposed French security pact.

Foreign Minister Briand himself this morning indicated disapproval of the issuance of this statement on grounds it had been agreed no statement of any kind would be made while the Franco-British negotiations were proceeding.

The French foreign minister, speaking to French newspapermen, said he hoped he could believe the statement issued last night had no authorization. He understood it had been agreed no statement of any kind would be issued while these conversations were continuing and he felt publication of this particular statement was scarcely suitable in the circumstances.

Observers were inclined to the belief that Foreign Minister Briand was speaking with his tongue in his cheek when he expressed the hope the statement had no official authorization. British official spokesmen are noted for punctiliousness about having authorization before making statements of this sort, and the British press this morning accepted the statement as the official communique.

Japanese-American Agreement Is Near

TOKYO, March 31.—(AP)—It was understood here today that Baron Shidehara, foreign minister, had completed a draft of instructions to the Japanese delegation at the London 5-power naval conference, authorizing acceptance of the Japanese-American formula without material alteration of the figures involved, but seeking the assent of the other powers to two or possibly three reservations attached to Tokyo's acceptance.

It was authoritatively promised that the end of Japan's fortnight of indecision regarding the Reed-Matsudaira formula would come tomorrow.

Baron Shidehara's draft of instructions was said to have been put into the hands of Premier Hamaguchi for presentation to the cabinet tomorrow. Approval of the cabinet is believed to be assured. Afterward the draft will be tendered to Emperor Hirohito.

It was understood that the reservations would be to insure that acceptance of the Japanese-American formula does not imply Japan's readiness to give up her demands for a seventy per cent ratio of eight-inch gun cruisers permanently and to enable Japan to carry out a certain amount of naval construction between now and 1936 for the purpose of giving employment to skilled dockyard workers in the meantime.

Three Ordered Home

LONDON, March 31. —(AP)— Charles Francis Adams, secretary of the navy and a member of the United States delegation at the London naval conference, today ordered the return of Rear Admiral W. A. Moffett, H. E. Yarnell and J. E. Pringle to the United States.

Secretary Adams made the decision after consultation with his colleaguse, deciding sufficient technical work had been done to permit the officers, who had been technical advisors to the delegation to return home.

Crisis Believed Near.

WASHINGTON, March 31.—(AP)—Acting Secretary Cotton said today he believed this week's negotiations would determine the future course of the London naval conference.

Cotton did not go beyond this brief statement.

Still Hopes for Pact.

LONDON, March 31.—(AP)—Prime Minister MacDonald told the house of commons today that the British government was still striving for a fivepower naval agreement.

Asked whether the government was still adhering to its determination to arrive at an agreement between the whole five powers taking part in the conference and not between two or three of them, the prime minister replied laconically: "Yes Sir."

Will Not Veto Any Summer School Bills Governor Announces

AUSTIN, March 31. (AP) Governor Moody said today he would not veto from the emergency appropriation bill passed by the fifth called session of the legislature items for summer schools and contingencies of state schools and colleges. After Living in America 40 Years Will Be Deported

FORT WORTH, March 31.—(AP)—Although he has three grown children who are American citizens by birth and though he has lived in the United States since 1890, Richard Fitzke, 58, of Sherman, Okla., will be deported to his native Germany, according to plans of the immigration service.

Grounds for deportation charged by the immigration service are two felony convictions Fitzke is alleged to have incurred. He is serving a term now in the Oklahoma state penitentiary on conviction in a charge of driving an automobile while intoxicated.

Fitzke came to America from Germany in 1890 when he was 19 years old and has never visited Germany since. Guy Smith, inspector of the Fort Worth immigration office, said a warrant would be served within a few days, and it was planned to deport Fitzke when his prison term expires this summer.

some foreigners already has left Nanchang for Shanghai. None of these, however, are believed to have arrived as yet. A Chinese gunboat arrived at Nanchang, apparently to evacuate Chinese officials in case of emergency rather than to attempt protecion of the populace.

According to the Chinese press, Kiangsi provincial officials have appealed to Chiang Kai-Shek, head of the Nationalist government, to relieve their province of "the grp of the rising tide of Communism."

SHANGHAI, Mch. 31.—(AP)—Captured by brigands, who Thursday raided and looted Yuanchow, Western Kiangsi province, three foreign workers of the British China Inland Commission today were the objects of an intensive search by fellow missionaries.

Dispatches reporting the Yuanchow outrage were confirmed by the mission at Changsha, Hankow province, and by a mission representative at Sinyu, Kiangsi. Much concern was felt for the safety of the trio, the Rev. and Mrs. R. W. Porteus of England and Miss N. E. Gemmel of Girard Kansas, since they were believed to have been captured by the same bandits who on February 3 kidnapped and presumably murdered three Finnish missionaries.

Mrs. Porteus was formerly an American and resided at Kerkhoven, Minn. Her maiden name was Emma Forsberg. She came to China in 1894.

Three other missionaries, two women and a man, escaped the bandit attack on Yuanchow by fleeing. Their whereabouts also was a mystery, and fears were felt for their safety in the mountainous country of Western Kiangsu province.

In China Eleven Years

GIRARD, Kas., March 31.—(AP)—Miss Nina Eleanor Gemmel, 35, reported captured by Chinese bandits, has been a Presbyterian missionary in China since 1919. She visited her aunt, Miss Martha Gemmell, in this city two years ago.

Miss Gemmel resided here as a girl, but later went to Pomona, Calif., to live with her parents, both of whom now are dead. She was a graduate of the University of Washington.

Three Workers Captive.

WASHINGTON, March 31.—(AP)—Confirmation of reports three missionaries, including Miss Nina Eleanor Gemmel of Girard, Kas., had been captured by Chinese bandits in Kiangsi province has been received by the state department.

RESCUERS MAKING DESPERATE EFFORTS REACH DOOMED MEN

the air was so thick with carbon monoxide that gas masks afforded scant protection.

This information added to the despair of the families of the trapped men, clustered in the open near the mine entrance, but still they hoped. All but one of the men, a boy 17 years old, had families.

The air was so dangerous that 15 of the rescue workers were affected last night. After struggling almost exhausted back to the mine entrance, they were placed on a car that with a locomotive serves as a shuttle train, to be carried to the county seat of Pineville, seven miles away, to recuperate.

Their places were taken by others, eager to aid in the fight. In charge of the rescue efforts was John F. Daniel, Lexington, chief of the state bureau of mines, and he had at his disposal the most modern of rescue equipment and a number of experts from the state bureau, from volunteer rescue companies and from the federal mine bureau.

The blast, origin of which was still undetermined, put the ventilating system out of order, and it was hours before the huge exhaust fan that removes the foul air was operating again.

SLAIN MAN'S WIFE AND DAUGHTER SEEK PROPERTY IN COURT

WACO, March 31.—(AP)—A trial in which the insurance and property of A. P. McCormick, shot to death in his home in Dallas last September 29, were contested by his wife, Mrs. Marjorie McCormick, and his daughter by a former marriage, Miss Adelaide McCormick, 13, was on the docket for commencement here today.

Both filed claims with the Southwestern Life Insurance company for $3,000 in insurance. The daughter also asked for $10,000 of her father's estate.

HOUSE REPUBLICAN LEADERS UNABLE TO AGREE ON PLANS

PROCEDURE FOR CONSIDERATION OF TARIFF BILL NOT YET DECIDED UPON

WASHINGTON, March 31.—(AP)—For the third time house republican leaders failed today to reach an agreement upon a plan of procedure for consideration of the tariff bill before sending it to conference with the senate.

Another mteting of the steering and rules committee groups was called for later in the day when it was predicted an arrangement satisfoctory to all groups within republican ranks would be formulated.

While the leaders declined to say what differences remained to be ironed out before the measure could be taken up on the floor, it was indicated that the demands of western republicans that the house accepted the higher senate agricultural rates was creating some of the difficulty.

Democrat Predicts Forcing Gag Rule

WASHINGTON, March 31.—(AP)—A prediction that republican leaders in the house would force a "gag rule" when the tariff bill is considered was made today by Representative Ragon of Arkansas, democratic member of the ways and means committee.

Taking the floor as republican leaders sought to clear the way for consideration of the tariff, the Arkansas member declared the republican leadership was "so saturated with Grundyism that it has not the proper sympathy with the interest of the agricultural people of the country."

He said the "four horsemen" of the tariff bill would not permit a consideration of the senate measure in the house, and pleaded for an aggressive minority to set a course on rates and administrative features on which votes may be taken.

He enumerated the "four horsemen" as Speaker Longworth, Representative Tilson of Connecticut, republican floor leader, whom he called first lieutenant, and Chairman Hawley of the ways and means committee.

Appropriation Blocked

WASHINGTON, March 31.—(AP)—Passage of the wood resolution to appropriate $2,665,000 for the justice department, to supply funds for increased prohibition law enforcement work, in the fiscal year 1930 was blocked in the house today by Representative La Guardia, republican, New York.

Chairman Wood of the appropriations committee sought unanimous consent for immediate consideration of the measure. The New Yorker, one of the wet leaders, objected.

He made no explanation of his objection.

FINAL DISPOSITION PETE M'KENZIE IS STILL UNDECIDED

SAN ANTONIO, March 31.—(AP)—Disposition of John M. (Pete) McKenzie, sentenced to death for the killing of Detective Chief Sam Street and later adjudged insane, still was undecided today, after a conference between District Attorney Lamar Seeligson and District Judge W. W. McCrory.

McKenzie was in the Bexar county jail. He had been there since his return from the Terrell hospital for a second sanity trial which resulted in a jury deadlock.

The state board of control Saturday announced it would not admit McKenzie to a state hospital as there were no facilities for restraining a man of his type. Judge McCrory previously had said he would order McKenzie's commitment, holding he had reverted to his insane status when the jury failed to arrive at a verdict. He also declared he would not try McKenzie again under the sanity affidavit made by Dr. George Powell of the Terrell institution.

Palestine Outbreak Not Revolt Against Britishers' Rule

LONDON, March 31. —(AP)— The Palestine commission, which investigated the disorders in Palestine last year, made public its report today, concluding that the outbreak was not intended to be, nor was it, a revolt against British authority in Palestine.

Among the general conclusions of the commission was the statement that the outbreak in erusalem on August 23, 1929, was from the beginning an attack by the Arabs on the Jews for which no excuse, in the form of earlier murders by the Jews, had been established. At the same time the commission said the outbreak was not premeditated.

The report recommended that a clear statement of policy by the British government was essential to the good government of Palestine.

NEW DELHI, India, March 31. —(AP)—Prohibition of baby brides becomes effective throughout British India at midnight.

Henceforth it will be illegal for mature men to marry girls of 7 and 8 years of age. Specifically, the new law forbids the marriage of girls less than 14 and boys less than 18 years of age, but the law was aimed at the greater marriage evil which brought upon its Indian proponents the condemnation of many westerners.

A fine of 1,000 rupees or imprisonment for one month will be imposed upon any person solemnizing a union which comes under the ban of the child marriage act.

RANGERS AT PAMPA FIND NOTHING HAD HAPPENED THERE

NO NEED FOR STATE OFFICERS IN CONNECTION CITY ELECTION TUESDAY

PAMPA, March 31.—(AP)—Ranger Sergeant Ganzaullus and Ranger Private Huddleston, reported here to ascertain if any trouble was expected in tomorrow's city election, today had found nothing to do.

A group of business men talked with the rangers and told them they saw no need for outside aid in the supervision of the election. The citizens also informed Governor Dan Moody that there had been no trouble and that none was anticipated and asked the withdrawal of the rangers.

Among those who talked with the Governor over the long distance telephone was T. D. Hobart, cattleman; Judge Ivey Duncan and the Rev. T. W. Brabham. They told Gov. Moody their only objection to the rangers was the adverse publicity it gave their city.

BODY OF MAN FOUND FLOATING IN PECOS RIVER IDENTIFIED

WAS KNOWN TO HAVE STAYED IN FORT WORTH SEVERAL WEEKS RECENTLY

SAN ANGELO, March 31.—(AP)—Possibility of a frame-up in a gambling house here in which H. M. Polan, whose body was believed to be the one recently found in the Pecos river near Girvin, was lured by a woman during the Cattlemen's convention here and was shot and robbed during a game, was a new angle brought out in an investigation here today.

Officers definitely learned that Polan had been here, had a suit of clothes made by a tailor and had registered at a hotel, giving his address as Montana. He disappeared the last day of the convention. Officers sought to identify the woman through a porter at the hotel.

FORT WORTH, March 31.—(AP)—Investigators today had their first tangible clew with which to work in solving the slaying of three found in the Pecos river near Fort Stockton within the last few months.

Photographs of a man whose nude body was found last Tuesday in the Pecos river have been identified by several persons here as H. M. Polan, of Plentywood, Montana, who was in Fort Worth from February 18 to March 11. Deputy Sheriff H. W. Rhodes announced the identification yesterday. The man had been shot twice.

He spent much of his time while in Fort Worth at a recreation club. He was believed usually to have carried enough money on his person to indicate robbery was the motive for his slaying.

Several weeks previously, the bodies of a woman and a girl were taken from the Pecos half a mile from the spot where the man's body was found. They were buried without identification having been established.

FROST WON CLASS B MEET; STATE HOME LEADING CORSICANA

CLASS A TENNIS CONTESTS LIKELY TO DECIDE CLASS A CHAMPIONSHIP

BY DELMORE OLSEN
Sun Staff Writer

FROST, Mar. 31.—By capturing twelve first places out of a possible fourteen, the State Home Lads literally ran away from Corsicana high school entries in the class A track and field dual meet staged in Frost Saturday morning in connection with the annual county track, field and literary meet, and as a result now have permanent possession of the John A. Pierce Class A loving cup, having won the cup three years in succession.

After a final count of points made by contestants in class A track and field events it was found that the State home had obtained 99 points out of 153, thus settling, for another year at least, the question of track supremacy in that department.

No less convincing was the win of Frost thinly-clads in class B, amassing a total of fifty-five points to lead Blooming Grove, its nearest competitor for honors by twenty-nine points. Dawson won third place in the class B department with twenty-one points, barely nosing out Bryan which had a total of twenty.

Class B Events Better

Class A trackmen and field participants, who have in the past held considerable edge over class B participants in time and distance, were forced to stand by and watch the county schools better marks set earlier in the day, and at the conclusion of the meet, it was found that in practically every running event and field contest, class B was considerably faster in time, and heaved weights longer distances.

Class B men bettered class A in the 100 yard dash, 880 yard run, mile run, 220 yard dash, shot put, discus throw, javelin throw, and broad jump.

In one department, however, the class A entries had a large lead over the field, and managed to uphold the prestige of class A with a mark of ten feet in pole vault. The best class B vaulters could do was exactly one foot less.

In junior boys races and field events, the State Home team, coached by Frank Ellsworth, member of the 1929 Lad track squad, was by far the class of the field, losing only one event, that the broad jump and amassing a total of 38 points to lead Blooming Grove, second place winner, by twenty-six points. Frost held third place with nine.

Presentation of Awards

Presentation of awards, cups and medals for the 1930 county meet were made Saturday evening by the director general, W. V. Harrison, and Charles McMichen director of athletics. Winners of all athletic events, that is for the first three places, were given individual trophies, while a number of cups were presented to schools for various literary events. Not all the schools winning places and events in the meet were present at the meeting Saturday night, and it was announced by the director general that such cups would be sent to the county superintendents office in Corsicana where they could be obtained by schools winning them for the year.

The banner for class A was not presented at the meeting, as one event, tennis, has not been completed and a win for Corsicana high school in some of the departments would materially alter the standing of points. At the conclusion of Saturday's events, State Home had 129 points and the Corsicana high school 114. Frost completely outclassed class B schools to win the class B banner, while Bazette was awarded the rural school all county championship. Kerens grammar school won the all county championship for that department.

WHITE'S CHAPEL IS AGAIN WINNER WITH OPPOSITION SHUTOUT

Backing up the splendid twirling of Weeks with sensational fielding, the White's Chapel nine defeated the Rinkey-Dinks of Corsicana 3-0 Sunday afternoon on the White's Chapel diamond. An estimated crowd of 500 baseball fans was on hand to watch the winning team blank opposition for the second straight time, having held the Humble Oilers of Mildred scoreless last Sunday.

Weeks, star tosser for the White's Chapel team, was in fine fettle for the fray, allowing only three hits, walking one man and striking out an even dozen. Five errors were chalked up against the Rinkey-Dinks, but these misues did not figure in the scoring. The White's Chapel nine was charged up with five hits and two errors.

Melton, White's Chapel slugger, led the hitting with a pair of singles, and was the only player on either team to secure more than one safe blow.

ACTION ON NAVAL APPROPRIATION BILL AWITS CONFERENCE

WASHINGTON, March 29.—(AP)—Intentions of house administration leaders to withhold action on the more than $300,000,000 annual naval appropriation bill for an additional six weeks in the hope that the London naval conference will reach agreement on tonnage, if not a reduction in naval armaments, was disclosed today by Representative French, republican, Idaho.

French is chairman of the house appropriations naval subcommittee.

He expects that any tangible agreement reach by the conference would result in a saving of approximately $50,000,000 in naval expenditures in the next fiscal year. Other savings would be effected in subsequent fiscal years.

The naval appropriations bill usually calls for an outlay of more than $320,000,000 annually. Some have placed the figure of this year's bill at about $400,000,000.

The measure must provide funds for carrying out the 15 cruiser construction program while the modernization of three battleships also has been contemplated. An agreement at London might have a decided effect upon the appropriations.

Only two of the new cruisers have been laid down so far. Three more are to be laid down before July 1, under the plan of the administration.

T. N. Franks Issues Public Statement

The following statement signed by T. N. Franks was handed the Daily Sun by Mr. Franks with a request that it be published:

"To my friends and others who might be interested in the unfortunate death of the young man, Graf, which occurred in Corsicana a few days ago:

"At the time of the death of this young man I was in charge of sixteen prisoners and I did not know and had no way of knowing the offenses for which these prisoners were being held. I had no intention of taking the life of this young man and it was a pure accident. I trust that my friends will not pre-judge my guilt or innocence, but will wait until the facts in the case have been fully presented to the court and to you before judging. After a hearing on the merits of the case I believe that I will in all things be exonerated.

DR. SCOTT RESIGNS PRISON COMMISSION PLACE; OBJECTS RECENT PRRISON LEGISLATION

TEMPLE, March 29.—(AP)—Dr. A. C. Scott, who as vice chairman of the Texas prison commission had been actively interested in prison reform, today had added his protest to what he termed the "expensive piece of patchwork" embodied in prison relief legislation enacted by the legislature.

Dr. Scott yesterday sent his resignation from the board to Gov. Dan Moody, giving as his reasons for resigning, pressure of private affairs and inability to agree with "controlling influences of the legislature in regard to prison reform."

"The legislature," he said, "has made it mandatory that much of the money appropriated shall go into permanent improvements at the old Huntsville prison and certain farms down in the Brazos bottoms. It is obvious that the purpose is to defeat permanently all efforts to centralize and modernize the prison system.

"A considerable part of the money can and will be very properly used by the prison board to relieve unsanitary conditions and overcrowding; but, from my viewpoint, the legislature's general plan constitutes a huge and ultimately very expensive piece of patchwork, which, from the standpoint of the state's interests, is unwarranted and guarantees inefficiency throughout the years to come. I decline to become a party to it."

Dr. Scott is an expert on health conditions of the prison system.

Moody Comments.

AUSTIN, March 29.—(AP)—Resignation of Dr. A. C. Scott of Temple from the prison board leaves a vacancy that will be difficult to fill, Gov. Dan Moody said today. He added he could not blame him for quitting.

"It's pretty hard for a busy business and professional men to give so much of their valuable time to a state service and then hear themselves criticized, such as happened on the part of the legislature," Gov. Moody said.

He declared he did not have any one in mind at this time to succeed Dr. Scott.

In aditon, there were two 5000 gallon cooling vats, electrical pumping and mixing equipment, 28 fifty gallon steel containers, and 80,000 gallons of mash.

NEW POWER PLANT BUILDING AT STATE HOME COMPLETED

Work on the main building of the new power plant at the State Home here has been completed, it was announced Saturday morning by G. J. Beaver, superintendent of construction for the Dee Humphrey Construction company, Dallas, who had the contract. It cost approximately $45,000.

The building is the most modern one of its kind in Texas. It is aa one-story brick 38 feet six inches by 71 feet four inches with a clearance of 22 feet inside. The building is fireproof, the windows and doors being all steel. All windows are operated from a single control.

The building will house two boilers, one 350 horse power Vogt and one 160 horse power Heine which will supply power and heat for the entire home. There are two long tunnels, one 331 and the other 335 feet, in addition to the branch tunnel connecting the power plant with the buildings on the campus. The two long tunnels are so constructeid that a man can walk through them to make any repairs that may become necessary.

Gas is used as fuel for the boilers and they are also equipped with oil burners in case of an emergency. The boilers are now being installed and the work will be completed as rapidly as possible.

De Witt and Washburn of Dallas were architects for the building and Whiteselle Brick and Lumber company, Corsicana furnished the material.

Work is progressing rapidly on the converting of the old dining hall at the Home into a dormitory. Repairs will also be made on the superintendent's home and on the store building at the institution.

Plans are being drawn for a new dairy at the Home and bids will probably be asked on them in June. Other construction work is also being planned at the institution.

A large amount of construction work has been done and is being planned at the Home since J. S. Halley has been made superintendent of the institution. Mr. Halley is deeply interested in the progress of the Home and has presented the needs of the Home so forcibly to the board of control that he has been able to secure much of the needed construction and repairs.

A new dining hall that will care for the needs of the Home several years to come has been completed, as has a new high school building that is the most modern in the state. Other work is being completed and plans for the continued growth of the Home are being formulated.

DISTRICT MEETING M. P. CHURCH BEING HELD IN CORSICANA

CONFERENCE SESSIONS COVERING THREE DAYS OPENED HERE FRIDAY NIGHT

The Corsicana district conference of the Methodist Protestant church which got under way Friday evening continued here Saturday morning when talks dealing with the present needs of the church were discussed by A. R. Corn, O. W. Milburn and G. O. McMillin all of Tehuacana. Talks by Mrs. Nell Posey, Mrs. C. A. Sutton, and Mrs. Henry Unfried were given at the afternoon session.

Following a devotional service led by Rev. J. W. Copeland, pastor of the Methodist Protestant church, Mr. Corn spoke at length on "Organizing for New Program of Evangelism," in which he defined evangelism and revival, and differentiated between mass and personal evangelism.

Discussing personal evangelism, the speaker explained that much effective work for the church can be done through personal contact, by everyone, everywhere. He stressed the importance and rising need of churches giving classes in evangelism, and said they should be given most importance in church school work. "When individuals begin to win souls for Christ," the speaker continued, "the church as a whole catches the fire of the spirit and much effective work is accomplished."

Should Keep People in Church

Mr. Corn deal at length on the importance of keeping people in churc work after they have been converted, and quoted statistics showing that is one Texas church, where 600 people were converted in a year, only 200 joined that church.

Speaking on the youth of today, Mr. Corn said that it is easier to convert 10 children and young people than it is to convert one older person. He cited statistics showing that only 3 per cent of the children converted ever become bad sinners, whereas 75 per cent of the hardened sinners fail to continue their good living.

In conclusion, the speaker declared that in order to win the young people to Christ, young people must take the lead in the work through personal evangelism.

In a round table discussion, it was brought out that most people are brought to Christ through recommedation of others, and after an evangelistic service laymen should talk to other laymen about their salvation. It was emphasized that in revivals a few of the church's most faithful members should be called together and make plans for extensive personal evangelistic work.

New Century Service.

Dr. G. O. McMillin of Tehuacanna, discussed the new century service, and explained how, when, and why pay it. Briefly outlining the new century service, the speaker said it is a new name for financial assessments, taken from begining a new century in Methodist Protestant church work. The object of the movement, he declared, is to get more money in order to make the church's foreign and home mission work more effective.

Mr. McMillin pointed out that the fund is used to care for superannuated preachers, old people's homes, orphans homes, the church's educational institutions, and local conference work.

The speaker outlined various methods of raising the required amount of money, and stressed faising it through self denial of luxuries. He suggested that the Sunday school departments relieve the pastor of the responsibility of raising the money.

O. W. Milburn, of Tehuacana, spoke on, "Our Church Extension Needs." Opening his remarks, the speaker pointed out that a church in a Texas city credits its effective work to the organization of its city and community churches. He said this church established a church in a large city, and then surrounded it with smaller churches in outlying communities, so that people moving to town could have good church affiliations in their new locations.

With this organization in mind, he went on, our church extension work needs people to aid in extending the border of our activities, which requires money to build more churches. "We need more churches in cities," de declared.

Explaining methods of extending the church's field of activities, and building more churches in cities of larger population, Mr. McMillin declared that if other churches help build a church in one city each year and follow this plan for succeeding years, the Methodist Protestant church will see a new era of effective work.

After announcing the program for the afternoon session, Rev. L. D. Shivers, district chairman, of Wortham dismissed the meeting.

The conference will have a session Saturday night, and continue through Sunday, closing Sunday night with an address by G. O. McMillin.

Opening Session.

Attendance was slightly curtailed at the opening of the district convention of the Corsicana district of the Methodist Protestant church Friday evening by bad roads and inclement weather. The sesions were held in the Methodist Protestant church at the intersection of South Eighteenth street and West Sixth avenue.

At the evening session of the conference, the delegates and visitors were assigned to homes for their three day stay.

Rev. J. W. Copeland, pastor of the Corsicana church, presided as acting chairman, and conducted the song service Friday evening. Rev. A. R. Corn led the opening prayer.

Rev. Kenneth Copeland, assistant pastor of the Corsicana church, welcomed the visitors, calling their attention to outstanding events in the history of the city, to many of its outstanding qualities; in behalf of the church, which has a motto of "the friendly church on the convenient corner," and in behalf of the members.

Rev. J. E. Butler responded briefly to the address of welcome, declaring that the delegates were happy to be in Corsicana and that they were expecting great returns from the district meeting.

Dr. McMillan Speaks.

"Surveying the Field," was the subject of the principal address of the evening by Dr. G. O. McMillin, former president of Westminister college, and now in charge of the church extension work in Texas. In his prefatory remarks the speaker called attention to the meetings in other sections of the state with the same purpose; he also urged the attendance of all the pastors and delegates at every session of the convention, decrying the attitute of some that their part of the work was over as soon as they delivered their talks. The pastor was termed the leading man in the church in each community, and it was necessary for him to attend the meetings and receive the information and inspiration.

He declared that the church was begining one of its best years in its history.

The work of the church in Texas covers a wide territory, Dr. McMillin asserted, including 35 pastoral charges, some 4000 members, and 83 churches. In many sections the churches were well-connected but in others, the need of connecting links is great.

The motto for the year will be "Forgetting the past, and pressing forward toward the mark" the church needs definite goals and program of achievement. He called attention to the special dates on the church calendar, including Easter Sunday, new century service on April 30, and Pentecost on June 8, when the church will join in the celebration of the 1900th anniversary of that day.

New Evangelistic Program.

A new program of evangelism is being advocated for the church, according to the speaker, and it does not start with the winning of new members but with the revival of the old members and the gradual expansion to others. The church attendance was termed necessary as an inspiration to the members and to those outside the church. A friendly spirit was termed a requisite for securing new members.

In the stewardship program, each church should be winning and anxious to do its best. The state is not overchurched he asserted, but the members are undernourished. He called attention to the need of aiding congregations in Abilene, Big Springs and Dallas.

Each members is a part of a great work, and the success or failure of the program of the whole church is in the hands of the churches and will be determined by the willingness of the members to serve and give. In closing the speaker declared that there was a constantly increasing interest in church and Sunday school activities in all parts of the nation.

Following the principal address, Kenneth Copeland took charge of the service and led the congregation in a series of Christian Endeavor songs, pep songs and games as a part of the social hour.

ATTACK DIRECTED AGAINST PRESIDENT HOOVER'S REGIME

WASHINGTON, March 29.—(AP)—A concerted attack was directed at the record of the Hoover administration last night by three democratic congressional leaders.

Issuing statements or speaking by radio, they charged the president with lack of leadership, asserted the administration had utterly collapsed and assailed the legislative record of congress since Mr. Hoover became president.

Through the democratic national committee, statements were issued by Senator Caraway of Arkansas and Representative Garner of Texas, dmeocratic leader in the house, while representative Byrns of Tennessee, delivered an address over the National Broadcasting company chain, in reply to a recent similarly delivered spech by Senator Fess of Ohio, defending the administration.

Carraway seized upon a recent message from the president to the Maine state republican convention in which the chief executive said the administration record justified the continued confidence of the people and said it "made one doubt whether to smile or grieve."

The senator asserted that if Mr. Hoover is not aware of the utter collapse of the administration, both legislative and administrative, he is the only intelligent person who is not.

Garner asserted that "there had not been a congress in the last fifty years that has not done better" than the present one, listing as its accomplishmets the passage of farm relief, congressional reapportionment and tax reduction legislation.

Bryns centered his attack upon the tariff bill.

"At this time," he said, "it appears that the crowning achievement of the Hoover administration will be the president's signing of the Grundy tariff bill. Now we are advised that the president is quite prepared to accept the Grundy tariff, in face of the revelation before the senate lobby committee if the processes by which the favored industries obtained the rates they wanted."

CROOKED FILLING STATION DEVICES BEING ALLEGED

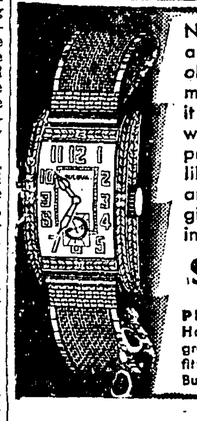

CARTHAGE, March 29.—(AP)—Sam Pharr of the state department of agriculture, weights and measures division, on an inspection trip here reported finding several filling stations equipped with devices for giving short measures on gasoline.

Pumps, he said, were equipped with a button that could either be pulled or pushed and give a customer three gallons of gasoline and let two gallons run back in the station's storage tank when five gallons were purchased. He said no charges would be filed, but he gave the operators warning to correct the pumps.

The inspector urged purchasers of gasoline and oil to measure the amounts given them and ascertain if they were correct.

STRONG OPENS HIS CAMPAIGN FRIDAY FOR STATE OFFICE

CANDIDATE FOR LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR PRAISED PROHIBITION LAW

ROCKWALL, March 29.—(AP)—Sterling P. Strong of Dallas praised prohibition ardently in an address prepared for delivery here Friday night to inaugurate his speaking campaign for the Democratic nomination for lieutenant governor.

Mr. Strong devoted most of his talk to an attack on the "liquorites" and a plea for equal privileges for those Democrats who deserted the party's presidental standard bearer in 1928.

"I have no criticism to make of the Democrat who sincerely believed he was pledged to vote for Governor Smith as the regular nominee for the party," the candidate said. "He did his duty as viewed from his standpoint, and does not deserve to be censored by anyone.

"There are other Democrats who just as sincerely believed that Gov. Smith repudiated his party's platform and refused to defend the principles of his party throughout the campaign, but to the contrary advocated principles directly antagonistic to his party declarations. These Democrats sincerely felt this action of Governor Smith released them from any obligation whatever of voting for him. I believe a great majority of both factions was entirely sincere therefore I do not believe either faction should undertake to discipline the other in trying to read those out of the party who have been fighting the battles of Democracy for many years."

No Middle Ground.

Stating that there was no middle ground on the prohibition question, Strong said that "you either stand for the constituion and the laws of the country, or with the boolegger and all criminals.

"Considering the wonderfully improved conditions throughout the country brought about by prohibition, it is absolutely astounding that any sane person could advocate its repeal. I would serve notice on the wet politician, the wet newspapers and magazines that this liquor rebellion will be suppressed the same as in the days of Washington and Grant."

After calling the liquor traffic the most outrageously immoral institution known to the world, the instigator and promoter of the most dastardly crimes known to mankind, a cancer on the body politic and the father of lies, Mr. Strong stated that "in fact, it is so damnable, malicious and appalling, language is inadequate to describe its career of degredation and crime."

Mr. Strong said that "the wet politicians, wet newspapers and magazines, and advocates of the liquor traffic in general are trying to deceive the young people of the country who are coming into manhood and womanhood, who are not acquainted with the awfulness of the saloon regime."

Advocates Economy.

The Dallas man advocated economy, a system of legislation just prior to elections to induce more people to vote and equal educational advantages.

Farm relief was stressed by Mr. Strong, who said that "the speculator in farm products should be prohibited from fixing the prices of such products." He declared he thought the federal government should appropriate money with which to build warehouses the same as it now allots money to states to construct federal roads. "The local banks could lend money on the products stored in those warehouses until the farmer felt justified in selling them," Mr. Strong said.

He asserted that he was opposed to a large highway bond issue "for I believe our present system of procuring funds for road building is sufficient to give the state a splendid highway system within a few years."

LARGEST CROWD OF REVIVAL PRESENT SUNDAY EVENING

EVANGELIST HAM PREACHES ON "IS CHRISTIAN FAITH REASONABLE ONE"

By far the largest congregation to attend a service of the Ham campaign which started last Wednesday evening in the large cotton warehouse at the corner of Sixth avenue and Eighth street, was present for the Sunday evening service, at which time Dr. M. E. Ham delivered an inspiring sermon on the subject "Is the Christian's Faith a Reasonable One?"

The large warehouse, capable of accommodating 3,500 people, was practically filled and for the first time during the meeting, the choir loft was occupied by a capacity crowd of singers, recruited from church choirs throughout the city which did not hold evening services.

The invocation was pronounced by Rev. Tom Lennox, pastor of the First Christian church.

Following the invocation, it was announced by Earl S. Rodgers that Dr. Ham would preach on "A Sermon From the Stars," Monday evening, andw "Origin of Idolatry" Tuesday evening. Attendance upon the day services which will be held each morning at 10 was urged by Mr. Rodgers.

Infidel Theory Attacked.

In the opening remarks of his sermon, Dr. Ham attacked the infidels theory of creation, describing it as one of blind chance. Taking his watch from his pocket, the speaker declared that the delicate mechanism of the time piece was not a result of accident or blind chance, but from the careful preparation of various parts by an expert watchmaker. The same condition is true of the universe, he declared, which moves on a precise mathematical plan and each member travels in a well defined orbit.

"There must he a supreme being which has worked out the plan for the universe, and it would be just as foolish for me to declare that the watch is a result of accident, as it is the universe has no power that sustains it," Dr. Ham declared.

It is unreasonable for any person to state that there is no God the speaker declared, the intelligent co-ordination of purpose that lies behind each manifestation of His power, forces each clear thinking men to admit the power of God.

The Bible, Dr. Ham stated, was the greatest miracle of history, in that it is composed of sixy-six books supposed to have been written by at least forty different writers, and not a single contradiction in the declarations can be found from Genesis to Revelations.

Bible Borne Out.

Results of recent discoveries by archaeologists which have not only substantiated the statements of the Bible but proved them beyond a shadow of a doubt, has just about caused all modernistic advocates to cease attacking the Bible and it's statements, Dr. Ham declared.

At this point in the sermon, the evangelist recounted several instances during his travels of the Holy Land and Egypt which proved several passages of scripture, and described the Bible as being one of the greatest cathedrals of all times, and carried his enthralled audience through the various treasure chambers in the book from the foundation stones of Genesis to the capstone to Revelations.

The speaker,in conclusion, mentioned several prophesies in the Bible which have come to pass, and referred to his sermon during the afternoon, "The Trend of Time" in which he pointed out the occurrences of modern times which were mentioned in the Bible, and the outcome of such things as recorded in the passages of scripture.

The benediction was pronounced by Rev. J. Howard Williams, pastor of the First Baptist church.

MISSOURI CONVICTS RETURNED TO WORK IN PLANTS MONDAY

JEFFERSON CITY, March 31.—(AP)—Approximately 1550 prisoners in the Missouri penitentiary went to the factories to work this morning for the first time since the mutinies and strike of last Wednesday and Thursday. The men ate breakfast at 6:30 and then went quietly to their posts.

There was no hin of dirorder, and the men apparently fell back into their regular routine willingly. An augmented force of guards, the machine gunners from the St. Louis National Guard machine gun company, and about a score of guardsmen from the Jefferson City unit stood by.

Before the strikes last week the prison worksheet showed a total of 196 prisoners at work.

Roaming the Realm — Of — County Sports

By DELMORE OLSEN

With the exception of tennis contests, which are scheduled to be played Tuesday, the Navarro County University of Texas Interscholastic League track, field and literary meet for 1930 is a thing of the past, with State Home winners in Class A track, as usual, Frost in Class B, Bazette in rural schools and Kerens in the grammar school divisions.

The banner for Class A all-county championship was not awarded Saturday evening, as wins for the Corsicana high school entrants in tennis would materially alter the point standings. State Home had amassed a total of 129 to 114 for Corsicana including last Saturday's events and Friday, March 21.

An invitation track and field meet will be held at the Currie school Friday, April 4. Entrants from a number of Class B schools in Navarro, Limestone and Freestone counties are expected to be on hand for the meet. One of the added attracions for the meet will be a track meet for girls, which is in some counties incorporated in the county meet, with special 30, 60 and 220 yard races to be run by the supposedly weaker sex.

Considerable interest has been shown in the first invitation track meet to be held in the couny, and a number of schools have been sent invitations an dentry blanks by E. C. Butler, superintendent of the Currie school and sponsor of the affair.

Practically the same order of events will be held for boys as in the county meet will be held, with the exception of pole vault, and probably some of the longer running events.

This meet will give winners in the county meet, who are to compete in the district mee the following week end, a chance to keep in condition and at the same time match strides against some fast men from surrounding communities. If Bourland from Barry and Davenport, State Home speeder, both enter the 100, 220 and 440 yard dashes, the running of these events between the fastest men in the county will be worth the trip to Currie alone.

There is considerable variance of opinion between close followers of track meets on the outcome of such a race, but it is the opinion of a number that Davenport would win the 220 yard dash, but lose the Class B flash in the 100 and 440 yard sprints. However, these races would be interesting and it is problematical on the outcome of the sprints, there might be men in the surrounding counties that could show a clean pair of heels to each, and would be worth watching. The supposition that any sprinter in Limestone and Freestone counties being able to outrun either flash is highly problematical, and would be a great upset. We figure that these two runners will finish first and second in each of the above-named events.

A splendid track and field has been prepared at the Currie school for the meet, as well as tennis courts, playground, ball diamonds, and volleyball courts. Patrons of the Currie school are expecting to play host to a largne number of school children and track fans for the one day meet and have made arrangements to that end.

Organization of a Navarro County "Peewee" baseball league was effected recently and teams interested in entering the league are requested to meet at the local Y. M. C. A. Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock to confer over the rules, and if possible to arrange a schedule. It is expected that there will be at least eight teams in the league, officials of the Benjamin Edward McGehee Post No. 437 of the American Legion, of Purdon, which is sponsoring the league, state.

In the introduction of the rules and regulations governing players and teams during the year the following statement, which is very significant and vital to the future of baseball in the county appears: "The American Legion Post of Purdon, Texas, believing that an organized baseball league for small boys of the county will be of great benefit, not only to the boys, but to Navarro county sports as well, will endeavor to organize and sponsor such a league in Navarro county."

"This league will be composed of teams from various communities, schools, churches and other organizations in the county."

The Navarro County Amateur Baseball league, which is being sponsored by the Johnson-Wiggins Post No. 22 of the American Legion, will get under way, Sunday, April 20th, and it looks like there will be eight teams entered in the league. The board of directors will meet Saturday, April 5th, in the Daily Sun office, to arrange a schedule and check up on the entrance fees of teams.

Teams which are expected to enter the league are playing baseball practically every day in preparation for the season, with the White's Chapel, Bazette, Magnolia Oilers, Humble Oil and Refining Company of Mildred, Cen-Tex and Richland, Blooming Grove and Phillips Chapel nines most active. Sunday afternoon, the White's Chapel nine turned in its second straight victory by winning over the Rinkey-Dinks of Corsicana 3-0 on the White's Chapel diamond.

POWER PLANTS IN THE HOME.

Summary of the department of commerce of the extent of which domestic electrical appliances are being pressed into service in nearly twenty million wired homes in the United States is an eye-opener. Hardly thirty years have elapsed since household use of electricity was confined almost wholly to illumination. Now power is rapidly taking the place of human service and lightening domestic drudgery.

The government survey enumerates eleven electrical appliances the users of which are numbered by millions. The most common of these are found in all but 6 per ct. of the wired homes. The illuminant is now called upon to wash and iron the clothes, clean and heat the house, preserve and cook the food, make the coffee and toast, supply breezes in hot weather, operate radios, clocks, oil burners, sewing machines and health and exercising equipment, and wash the dishes. And the end is not yet.

It must be fairly apparent to the producers and purveyors of electricity that practically the only limit to the development of the gold mine represented by more prodigious uses of current-consuming equipment in the home is the limit of the consumer's capacity to buy. It is price alone that restrains still wider employment of the model electric servant.

Since the domestic use of electricity is becoming constantly more important as a factor in total generation distribution, sound business policy calls for the stimulation that only lowered rates to the domestic consumer can afford. Industrial plants and transportation systems are fine customers for the power companies, but by comparison with the domestic consumers they are few in number. The home owner is sold on service. He needs now only to be sold on price.

BANK MERGERS.

Bank merging continues on the grand scale throughout the United States, the latest and largest proposed merger being that of the Chase National Bank, Equitable Trust Company and the Interstate Trust Company in New York.

Consolidation of these three banks into one huge institution with assets of $2,800,000,000 indicate in striking fashion the forces which are working today for bigness in financial resources in large units.

This merger would give New York City the largest bank in the world, but the race will not stop there. This same combination is already talking of absorbing a large Brooklyn institution, and there are rumors that the National City Bank, of New York, is to be the nucleus of another large merger.

The public is uncertain whether banking consolidation is desirable or dangerous. It realizes that banking facilities must keep pace with the industrial and commercial structure, of which consolidation is now the keynote, but the little depositor sometimes wonders if one big bank is as strong and safe as several smaller banks.

Banks never before enjoyed so much confidence as they now do, so, lest that confidence be impaired by misunderstanding and doubts, the banners ought to make their position clear.

An old-timer is one who can remember when a shady past was a handicap instead of literature.

JUST FOLKS

ACCIDENT.

I was in health when I arose
And all the world seemed fair,
But strange no man living knows
How near are pain and care,
Nor just what trifle shall dispose
Of joys he plans to share.

Quitting my room I should have said
A care-free man am I,
With breakfast done I'll push ahead
With men who sell and buy,
There is no danger near to dread,
Nor grief to cause a sigh.

But as I trod the bottom stair
I felt a twinge of pain,
Disaster caught me unaware,
And all my plans were vain,
I fell—now in an easy chair
I nurse an ankle strain.

I was a well man when I arose,
And viewed the coming day
As wholly mine from dawn to close,
But here at home I stay,
Which only proves that no man knows
His fate one hour away.

MURDER WILL OUT.

When insurance experts begin to morry about the homicidal hazard, the serious condition of society is made more apparent than by any statistics which can be compiled or quoted. The homicide rate is so high in this country that every citizen is exposed to a measurable risk of murder or other forms of sudden death at the hands of his neighbor. The risk is fractional, of course, but it is apparently sufficient to be included in the calculations of those whose business is fonded on mortality tables.

Among many startling discoveries of the statistician in the case, Dr. Frederick L. Hoffman, is the marked disproportion between American cities and their equivalent in other nations. Detroit's rate, for example, is more than five times that of Windsor, which lies just across the river in Canada. The national homcide rate is easily the highest in the world. Moreover, it is increasing and has apparently doubled within thirty years, in which this investigator has made his studies and annual reports.

The collector of these figures considers also their cause, as must all those who mark these mounting totals of murder. He blames prohibition, the mutual extermination of gang warfare, the unassimilated alien and the national weakness for deadly weapons. These are familiar charges; others of his conclusions are more unexpected. He finds, for instance, that the reputations of such cities as New York and Chicago are not altogether deserved; the homicide rate of the former is considerably below the national average, and that of the Western city is only a little above it. He notes that capital punishment has not proved a deterrent to homicide, according to the record. But these are details and the principal charge remains—that this nation is not only careless of human life as revealed by the accident record but also exceptionally cursed with those who take life with criminal intent. It is a serious indictment founded on facts and figures, and the well-intentioned citizen must seek both explanation and cure for the condition it represents.

PROFESSORS MUST LIVE.

It has long been known that some of the best minds and personalities that any university might be proud to have on its teaching staff have been drawn through economic pressure into other fields. Economics have found business opportunities that the necessity of supporting a family have forced them to accept. English professors have been compelled to desert their academic for literary and journalistic posts; chemists and physicians have been tempted away by the research laboratories of great industrial corporations not simply by the chance to make money, but by the chance for more research.

It is true that no one has to go into academic work unless he or she wants to, and those who do considerations of income will not deter or deflect. Most teachers must live, and they must live according to a high standard imposed upon them by their social and professional positions.

Many a promising academic career has been ruined or corrupted by the necessity of eking out a painfully small income with extra teaching, extra writing and extra editing which has hampered research and taken the edge off man's scholastic and teaching usefulness.

In view of these facts public approval is given the new willingness on the part of colleges and universities to grant sweeping salary increases to their professors.

Though some will maintain, even in this so-called materialistic age, that scientists and students should not be swayed by material things, education for its trained men and women is in open competition with business which believes in making the financial reward commensurate with the service rendered.

The modern bathrooms in the five-color advertisements are handsome, to be sure, but you can't tell anything about acoustics from a picture.

A BUSINESS-LIKE WEAPON

THE AGGRESSIVES DO BUSINESS.

The task facing those who attempt to gauge the progress of business just now is no easy one, judging from reports of the Federal Reserve Board.

February trade statistics show a spread of over 11 per cent in department store sales in different sections of the country, ranging from declines of more than 5 per cent to increases of over 6 per cent.

These statistics do not reveal the variation as between stores in the same locality, but it is safe to assume that the spread there is even wider. That is, while there is little variation between communities, states and sections, there are in each community some enterprises that had increased sales in February and others that show great losses in comparison with the corresponding month in former years.

Of the 491 department stores reporting to the Federal Reserve Board on February sales 263 enjoyed increases and 223 suffered declines. And the average gain for the country as a whole was 2.2 per cent. These figures do not cover the chain store systems.

In some sections stores can definitely trace their drop in sales to unemployment, strikes or unfavorable farm conditions, but the fact that others in the same sections have increased their business indicates that some business men are not daunted by talk of "hard times." Modern merchandising methods and newspaper advertising were evolved to help the merchant and manufacturer get business where less progressive ones say it cannot be found.

CENSORSHIP SLIPPING.

There are unmistagable signs that censorship is now losing ground as fast as it became a mania with legislatures a few years ago. Advocates of play censorship have got nowhere. Except in Boston and in customs offices and postoffices there is no censorship of literature. As for movie censorship, it is not being made more stringent and probably would be abolished if the public were informed of the innocuous stuff that is being "cut" from the films.

One of the above exceptions to literature's freedom from censorshup—the customs offices—will be removed shortly if the house approves the Smoot amendment to the tariff bill making the federal courts the censors of imported reading matter. In the past customs officers who are hardly literary acted in the capacity of literary dietician for the nation. While federal juries are not eminently qualified for literary criticism, there is a chance of finding among 12 good men and true one who can judge good literary by something other than its reactions on a moron.

Judging from some of their official acts customs men are "unskilled labor," and yet for years by the grace of an omniscient congress, they have been the judge of what millions of intelligent men and women could and could not read. Small wonder that such men as Senators Cutting, Tydings and Wheeler arose in vehement and outraged protest in the senate.

Whether federal censorship of literature will be abolished entirely depends largely upon the success of the proposed "book juries."

HEAD PROHIBITION ENFORCEMENT GIVES SOURCE OF MALADY

WASHINGTON, Mar. 28.—(AP)—Prohibition Commissioner Doran announced today that bootleggers who sold a concoction of creosote or crude carbolic acid, flavored with ginger were responsible for the several hundred cases of paralysis in the South and Southwest sections of the country.

The commissioner said the concoction, which he termed "sheep dip," had been tested and found to be poisonous. Hundreds of samples, he continued, had been examined and were discovered to be either creosote or crude carbolic acid flavered with ginger.

From three-fourths to seven-eights of the solids in the mixture was creosote or crude carbolic acid, Doran asserted.

Drinking the "sheep dip cocktail," the commissioner said, would seriously affect anyone, and samples analyzed indicated it had been responsible for many cases of partial paralysis.

Doran said apparently some shrewd bootlegger had devised a "scheme to get rich quick" and had distributed large amounts of the concoction. He said it was put up in the same sort of bottles as Jamacia ginger and that the first taste was like Jamacia ginger, but after another one or two, the flavor would be carbolic acid or creosote. He said there was just enough ginger in it to give it a predominant ginger flavor.

The commissioner said there were three focal points of distribution for the concoction and that two of them centered in St. Louis and Cincinnati.

A liking for "a hot, biting drink," Doran said, made the "sheep dip cocktail" a favorite in some Southern and Southwestern states. He said that the tests of the samples indicated there was as much as 80 or 90 per cent alcohol in some of the lots.

TO TEST SHALLOW SAND IN OIL WELL IN DAWSON SECTOR

L. S. Lee said Friday morning that the wildcat oil well being drilled on the W. N. Matthews tract two and one-half miles northeast of Dawson was down 710 feet and that an oil sand had been topped at that depth. He said that the showing was so good that casing would be set and a thorough test made of the sand.

Back Quit Hurting

"I WAS in a very weak condition from a serious sickness," writes Mrs. I. Leonard, of 571 Joseph St., New Orleans, La. "I was so weak, I wanted to sleep all the time. I did not have strength to do anything. My back ached nearly all the time. I was just in misery.

"My mother told me I must arouse myself from the sleepiness, and take something to help get my strength back. She had taken Cardui and had been helped, so I decided to take Cardui, too. After my first bottle, I could see that it was helping me. I took four bottles at this time. My strength came back and I gained weight. Pretty soon, I was my old self again. My back quit hurting, and I haven't had any more trouble since I took Cardui."

GOOD HEALTH IS GREATEST THING EDISON BELIEVES

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., March 29.—(AP)—If Thomas Edison were told that he could have any one thing in the material, mental or spiritual worlds, he would choose "good health," he told newspaper reporters here.

He scribbled the two-word answer to a question on this subject, while visiting Harvey Firestone, rubber manufacturer, here last night. He has been here two days visiting the Firestone rubber gardens in Miami Beach, and other points of interest.

Edison said the fields of chemistry and physics were ones in which there was great need for new inventions and discoveries.

The inventor said he had one or two "old experiments nearly finished." He wrote a one-word answer to a question as to whether he planned to retire after completing his rubber experiments. It was "no."

He said his diversion was experimenting. He attributed his success to "hard work and ambition" and said he did not think he would live to be 100.

YOUTHFULNESS and BEAUTY
are dependent upon a strong body—firm flesh—a clear skin

NOTHING is more beautiful, more inspiring, more glorified than the supreme manifestation of Nature in the human body. Those sparkling eyes, that clear skin, that firm flesh, and that vigor of action denoting vitality, bespeak loveliness and internal healthfulness.

The why of a clear skin

A clear, smooth, lovely skin speaks of rich, red blood within. It is Nature's outward reflection of internal healthfulness.

Men and women, both, justly covet admiration and all may expect such satisfaction to its fullest extent if they are the possessors of a clear, unblemished skin.

If you are unfortunate in this respect you owe it to yourself and friends to remove the cause. Nature will then provide the complexion which is so much desired.

More important still, strong healthy blood nourishes the body and fights against infection and disease.

S.S.S.
THE GREAT BLOOD TONIC SINCE 1826

Loss of strength, flabby flesh and skin eruptions are but a few of the symptoms of a deeper and more dangerous trouble—a lack of the normal count of red-cells in the blood.

And so, is it not our birthright to be masters over our own bodies? To be sure not much is said openly about personal handicaps—skin blemishes—sallow complexion—poor health—but secretly they influence many important affairs.

Skilled physicians recognize the appearance of skin blemishes, lack of appetite, flabby flesh and loss of energy as an indication that the body's power of resistance is low—that there is a deficiency of red-blood-cells.

This is why so many thousands, seeking youthfulness and beauty, have taken a course of S.S.S. It helps Nature restore the blood to its normal state. Without plenty of rich, red-blood-cells there would be no strong, sturdy, powerful men or beautiful, healthy women.

How S.S.S. BUILDS STURDY HEALTH

For more than 100 years S.S.S. has been helping people regain and retain their strength and charm. It promotes healthy body building. It increases the number of red-blood-cells. All drug stores sell S.S.S. in two sizes. Ask for the larger size. It is more economical.

BUSINESS SHOWS IMPROVEMENT OVER ELEVENTH DISTRICT

crease commitments beyond definite requirements."

The review told of "a more optimistic feeling among farmers," brought about by a long period of favorable weather and rapid progress with agricultural operations.

Good Season in Ground

"There is a good season in the ground in most sections and the soil is in excellent condition for planting. The growth of small grains during the past six weeks has been rapid and these crops are in generally good condition. While the improvement in the condition of livestock has been slow and extensive feeding has been necessary, the grass and weeds on the ranges have started and prospects point toward good pastures somewhat earlier than usual. Livestock are expected to improve rapidly when ample pasturage becomes available."

The review likewise painted a more satisfactory picture of the financial situation. Business failures were said to be fewer than in any corresponding month since 1920, except in February last year. "While the insolvency of a few large concerns greatly increased the amount of indebtedness involved," the report stated, "the total liabilities of defaulting firms were not unusually heavy as compared to those in February during previous years." Liabilities aggregated $1,359,396, compared with $739,826 the preceding month and $551,720 in February, 1929.

Bank Deposits Increase

The combined total of daily average net demand and time deposits of member banks during February was still materially below that of the same month last year, but was larger than in January. Federal Reserve bank loans to member banks declined from $11,720,323 on January 31 to $7,345,398 on March 15 and on the latter date were $6,050,602 less than on the corresponding date last year.

The review said that while a gradual expansion in the demand for funds by country banks had been experienced, this increase had been more than offset by the retirement of loans by the reserve city banks. The demand for funds at reserve city banks continued to decline and these banks have been adding to their secondary reserves sa a means of employing surplus funds, it was said in the report.

Wholesale trade in dry goods and hardware was larger in February than during the previous month but that in groceries, farm implements and drugs was smaller, the report stated, and sales in all reporting lines, except groceries, showed a substantial decline from the corresponding month last year. "Nevertheless reports indicate a growing spirit of optimism among both retailers and consumers," it added.

Retail Sales Grow

February retail sales were 6.2 per cent larger than those of January despite a shorter month. As compared to a year ago, they were only .3 per cent smaller. "Late reports indicate that there is a good demand for spring merchandise and that business is holding up well in view of the fact that March, 1929, business was stimulated by an early Easter."

The continued weakness in raw cotton prices retarded the demand for cotton goods, the review said. Consumption of cotton at the Texas textile mills was smaller than in January, 1930, or February, 1929. Orders on hand at the mills at the close of February were slightly smaller than those a month earlier, while stocks were larger than on either date. A further decline was noted in the receipts and exports of cotton through Houston and Galveston.

Oil Production Increases

Production of crude oil showed an increase over February of last year but a decline from January. Practically all of the reduction was accounted for by the North and Central West sections of Texas. Southwest Texas showed only a slight drop, while the East Central, Texas Coastal and North Louisiana fields reflected increases.

Building permits in 14 selected cities during February aggregated $5,243,193, as compared with $4,962,650 for January and $6,739,925 for February, 1929. The two-month period ended February 28 witnessed a decline of 19.9 per cent from the same period in 1929.

"While shipments of fruits and vegetables from the Rio Grande Valley have been falling below those of a year ago since the January freezes, total shipments for the season still show a substantial increase," the report said. "The early plantings of potatoes in this section show a sharp increase over a year ago. The condition of the onion crop was reported as only 70 per cent of normal as compared to 85 per cent last year. The tomato crop, on the other hand, is doing much better than last spring. The demand for Texas cabbage is exceeding supply and prices are advancing."

Livestock Situation

The review disclosed a sharp reduction in the February receipts of cattle and calves at the Fort Worth market as compared to the previous month but an increase over February of 1929. The number of hogs yarded showed a considerable increase over January but a decrease from February, 1929. The arrivals of sheep were fewer than in either previous period.

"Despite the smaller recipts, prices on most classes of cattle worked to lower levels during February," it was said. "The market was some stronger in the first week of March and remained about stady the following week. After advancing during the first half of February, the hog market reacted somewhat during the following four week period. Sheep and lamb prices reflected a further decline during the six-week period ended March 15 and reached the lowest level recorded in several months."

While the borrowings from the Federal Reserve bank were considerably smaller than a year ago they were distributed over a larger area, the report disclosed.

Savings deposits of 90 reporting banks totaled $148,011,105 on February 28, a slight decrease from a month earlier and from a year previous. However the number of savings accounts at 83 of these banks increased.

M. P. DISTRICT CONFERENCE HERE CLOSED SUNDAY

YOUTHFUL PREACHER GAVE CLOSING SERMON IN THREE-DAY MEETING

Kenneth Copeland, co-pastor of the Methodist Protestant church, gave the concluding sermon of the three-day session of the Corsicana district conference of the Methodist Protestant church here Sunday night, with an eloquent delineation of the mission of the church. Following the sermon a short business session was conducted.

Talks by Mrs. Nell Posey and Dr. G. O. McMillan featured the Saturday afternoon session, while George Kuykendall and Dr. McMillan were the principal speakers at the Saturday night meeting. The Sunday morning assembly was featured by an address by Dr. S. W. Stevenson, president of Westminster college, at Tehuacana.

Following a short song service led by Rev. J. W. Copeland, pastor of the Corsicana church, the opening prayer was given by Dr. McMillan, and a large number of Emhouse visitors were welcomed.

Stating the subject of his sermon would be, "Mission of the Church," the youthful minister read a portion from the tenth chapter of Matthew, and stressed missionary work as spoken of by Christ. Continuing, he explained that various people have divergent ideas as to the mission of the church in general, and pointed out that the primary objective of all churches is to save souls to Christ.

Saving Souls Paramount

"All churches have numerous organizations but the foremost purpose of each is to further the work of the church in saving souls," he declared. The speaker ennumerated various requirements necessary to effect work for God, and said it is imperative for church members to know Christ, to tell others of His salvation qualities. "Another requirement," Copeland went on, "is to lead such a life that no question regarding your sincerity is raised." In this connection he said that the lives of church people are the only Bibles that the unsaved read.

"Many churches are filled with people who do not know Christ as their personal savior," the youthful minister declared. He pointed out that when a person is converted a change of heart is necessary, but not an outward show of emotions. "If one leads a Christian life simply because they have nothing else to do," he went on, "it is a failure, but on the other hand, if they are busy people, and have to sacrifice many luxuries in order to live up to Christ's standard, they will be recognized as Christians, and be enabled to do effective church work."

In order to win souls for Christ, Copeland went on, people must give the world something it will know, appreciate and remember.

"Let your everyday life be a sermon that speaks out for your sincerity, and it will do much toward winning lost souls to Christ," he declared. In closing the Rev. Mr. Copeland asserted that after a person has been converted it is the duty of church members to keep him in the church, show an interest in him, and make him lead a life that befits a Christian.

JEALOUS SUITOR KILLS WOMAN AND SHOOTS COMPANION

SKOWHEGAN, Me., March 31.—(AP)—A 21-year-old woman, Mrs. Doris Moran, was dead today and James Henderson, 19, of Madison, Me., was in a critical condition as the aftermath of gunplay by a former suitor at a party of young people.

A charge of murder faces Donald Pomeroy, 22, who police say confessed, declaring jealously had prompted his act.

The tragedy occurred early yesterday at an apartment party after a dance. Pomeroy, entering the room and finding Mrs. Moran and Henderson together, shot them both three times. The wounded couple were taken to the Kennebec Valley hospital and the woman died early today.

The woman and her husband had been separated.

OF INTEREST TO YOU

What Is a Community Without a Newspaper?

Circulation of Interest to You

One is so used to the convenience and the interest of the daily newspaper of one's own community that it is hard to appreciate the real importance of this influence and service in our daily lives. The only way to awaken oneself to the necessity of the local newspaper is to know the experience of living in a town that has no local paper.

The community that supports an enterprising newspaper is the active, growing town, alive not only to the news of the world of the day, but keenly awake to its own interests and affairs. Neighborhood and community activities thrive in such a place and civic management and affairs are more the public's concern. Local society, sports, church and municipal affairs are promoted and bettered where there is a local paper to keep the people in contact with eash other.

The community without a newspaper is dormant and dependent on its neighbor towns, not only for news but for many if not all the daily needs of life that the stores of other towns advertise in the local paper. The city with a good newspaper is the thriving place—self-supporting, interested in Town affairs as well as those of the rest of the world—and usually helping to supply the daily needs of less fortunate communities in its vicinity.

Such a city is Corsicana with the Daily Sun to awaken its civics consciousness and to supply it with the news of its people and its neighbors---and, just as important, of its stores.

Your newspaper is your only public contact medium of the masses and the classes who look for it every day for the news from the outside world around them. •

At the morning church hour of the First Methodist church Dr. Bergin explained the conflict in the Standard Training school and the Ham revival dates. He also named the committee for Easter decorations, reminded his hearers that he would take an offering Easter for the Missionary work of the church and asked all to help him bring in a large class into the church on Easter. He preached from the subject, "The Creed of Christ," and the choir sang two anthems, "Remember Thy People," by Bell and "God, Thou Art Great" by Harker. Dr. Bergin called his hearers' attention to the fact that all human relations with God and man rested on two commandments, that one should love God with all their soul, mind and heart and one should love his neighbor as himself. The church was filled for the morning church hour.

Feared Seven Sailors Drown as Ship Sinks

LERWICK, Shetland Islands, March 31.—(AP)—Seven men who had been clinging to the rigging of the Aberdeen team trawler Ben Doran, which struck a reef in the West Shetland group Saturday, had disappeared with their ship today, and it was feared they had perished.

Trawlers and drifters which left the mainland this morning in an attempt to rescue the imperiled crew of the Ben Doran returned sevral hoeurs later and reported the trawler had disappeared. There was no sign of life anywhere.

KANSAS CITY MAN WHO PAID $100,000 RANSOM IS SILENT

KANSAS CITY, March 31.—(AP)—Following a trail made difficult by refusal of the supposed victim to discuss the case, police today expressed belief that $80,000 of the reputed $100,000 ransom demanded for release of Michael Katz, millionaire druggist, after his reported kidnapping March 18, had been taken to St. Louis.

Police investigation here revealed that approximately $10,800 in bills known to have been included in $100,000 withdrawn by the Katz Drug company from the Federal Reserve bank through the Commerce Trust company was placed in circulation in Kansas City.

Edward P. Boyle, chief of detectives, expressed belief that the larger share of the reported ransom had been taken to St. Louis by two "racketeers' from that city, who, in Chief Boyle's opinion, executed the Katz kidnapping aided by Kansas City underworld characters.

Mrs. A. W. Rogers, superintendent, a model worship program was given under direction of Mrs. A. W. Hall, and in the Junior Department Archie Carraway made a talk.

FAIRFIELD CASE BACK IN HANDS OF COUNTY OFFICERS

MANY STATEMENTS ALLEGED BURNING ATTEMPT VICTIM CONFUSES OFFICIALS

FAIRFIELD, March 28.—(AP)—County officers today were faced with the task of untangling the several statements made by Miss Wilma Jones concerning the alleged attempt to burn her to death. After a week spent in investigation Sate Rangers J. B. Wheatley and B. M. Gault returned to Austin yesterday, terming the case a self-perpetrated hoax.

Sergeant Wheatley said Miss Jones admitted she fired her hotel room bed to detract attention from her forgery trial. Officers said it was unlikely any charge would be brought in connection with the fire.

She had been charged with forging the name of G. S. Moore to a $250 check and later, Tommie Dodd and his mother, Mrs. Sarah Jane Dodd, were charged as accomplices in the forgery. Bond was set for all three, and their cases were expected to await action of the grand jury in May.

County Attorney W. V. Geppart said Miss Jones had told so many stories he was at a loss to know what to believe. In her first two statements, which conflicted, the girl accused two men of trying to burn her to death.

FORMER CORSICANA YOUTH WAS KILLED FALL FROM TRUCK

Mrs. Jodie Hoffman, sister-in-law of Robert A. Hoffman, 22, employee of the Magnolia Petroleum company, stated Friday that young Hoffman's death near Electra Tuesday was caused by his fall from a truck, his head striking the hard road, instead of being run over by a wheel of the truck, as carried in Wednesday's paper, and that a brother, J. W. Hoffman and two married sisters, Mrs. F. M. Gentry and Mrs. W. A. Plunkett reside at Amarillo instead of Abilene.

The funeral was held from the Methodist Protestant church Wednesday afternoon with interment in Oakwood cemetery.

Pallbearers were Kelton Holloway, Buford Barnes, Arthur Franklin, Wayne Walker, Duval Hedrick and Claude Pickering.

MAIN QUESTION IN NEGOTIATIONS HOW FAR U. S. WILL GO

ATTITUDE ON CONSULTATIVE PACT HOVERS BEHIND EVERY PHASE OF PARLEY

BY DEWITT MacKENZIE
(Associated Press Staff Writer.)

LONDON, Mar. 29.—(AP)—The principles which the American delegation has shaped to guide possible United States participation in a suggested consultative agreement for the benefit of France were said today on the highest authority to have been fully approved by President Hoover.

This statement was in answer to press reports from the Washington correspondents of English newspapers to the effect that the president was unfavorable to the American naval delegations open minded attitude towards a consultative pact.

LONDON, March 29.—(AP)—Hovering behind every move in the five-power naval conference negotiations now is the question of just how far the United States will go in entering a so-called consultation agreement, or pact to consult other signatory nations in the evet of theat of war.

The American delegation themselves are not taking any prominent part in the negotiations, the most importa.t phase of which at present is the attempt of the British delegation to furnish France sufficient guarantee of security without involving their government in any military commitments.

Whatever this involves, wether re-statement of British obligations already contained in the league of nations convenant or a new Mediterraneant pact of mutual security, a major promise upon which it undoubtedly will be built is the American attitude in the event it is necessary ever to bring its provisions into force.

Authoritative information was given yesterday that no offer has been made by the American delegation to enter a consultative pact of any sort, that if such a pact is agreed to it will not be broad as the four power Pacific ocean treaty reached in the 1922 Washington conference, and that such a pact will be considered only after the French alims for security have been satisfied elsewhere.

The French idea is believed here to have been that a consultative treaty based on the Pacific pact would imply American participation satisfactory to them. On the other hand, the French delegation is understood to have evinced some disappointment with information that the Pacific treaty was regarded by the Americans as too broad to apply to the Mediterranean.

The British delegates are not entirely cheerful about proceedings now, wondering just how they can satisfy France, and take or no additional military commitments. The French observers say thier delegation will not consent to accept a security past as price of its naval program reduction "which offers beautiful language guarantees only."

Meanwhile Washington dispatches today reported increasing expressions in America against participation in a consultative pact. British sentiment also, while tolerantly expectant, has give evidence of bitter opposition to assuming any more military commitments to keep the peace.

Members of all the delegations last night attended the Lord Chancellor's reception in the House of Lords in their honor. Afterward Prime Minister MacDonald went to Chequers and Col. Stimpson to Stanmore for the week-end.

Security Plans Falls.

LONDON, March 29.—(AP)—Naval conference circles neard persistent reports this morning that negotiations between the French and British to work out a scheme for a suggested security pact have met failure thus far. One report had it that a complete deadlock had been reached.

WASHINGTON, March 29.—(AP)—Acting Secretary Coton of the state department said today there were no differences of view between President Hoover and the American naval delegation in London.

Mr. Cotton's statement was issued to newspapers after an early conference with President Hoover in the executive offices to which it was understood the president summoned him.

NAVARRO COUNTY'S FAMOUS TWO TOED WOLF STILL FREE

KERENS, March 29.—(Spl.)—The wolves of east Navarro county after about six months of quietness began their depredations again by visiting the chicken yard of Bob Hodge, four miles northeast of Kerens recently. The family saw the wolves as they left the place with chickens.

They reported the tracks of our famous "Two Toe" wolf that has been the leader of the pack that has terriorized the farmers and stockmen of this end of the county for the last three years.

This two-toed wolf has been the leader of a band of wolves down near the Trinity river for three or four years and has caused considerable loss to stockmen and poultry raisers and the wolf pack has been hold enough to come to the city limits to prey on poultry, pigs and other small animals.

The Kerens Wolf Club was organized two years ago and offered rewards of $25.00 for each female and $10.00 for each male wolf killed here. Only four or five persons have succeeded in collecting rewards as the wolves are too shy to be trapped or run down by dogs. The rewards still stand and are paid by the club when the wolves are brought in.

NEW YORK, March 31.—(AP)—Cotton opened steady at advance of 5 to 13 points in response to relatively steady cables and spot house buying of near months. Trading was moderately active and initial demand for May and July seemed to be supplied on the opening advance which carried May to 15.99 and July to 16.00, or 9 to 11 points net higher.

Reactions of several points followed under realizing, but buying continued, and the general market held steady at the end of the first half hour with active months ruling about 5 to 10 points net higher.

Contracts became comparatively scarce after early offerings were absorbed, and prices made new high ground to the movement later with May selling at 16.11 and July at 16 13 while new October advanced to 15.48, or 16 to 23 points net higher. The market was quiet but steady within two or three points of the best at midday.

New Orleans Cotton Steady.

NEW ORLEANS, March 31.—(AP)—Cotton experienced a steady opening as cables were much better than due. Opening trades showed gains of 4 to 8 points, losing 1 to 5 points. May traded at 15.70, July at 15.77 and October at 15.48, at the end of the first hour the market was steady and tending up.

The market was quite active all morning, and old crop months advanced sharply on New York buying here and good trade demand. May traded as high as 15.83, and July to 15.88, or 31 points above Saturday's close. October traded up to 15.54, or only 23 points above the previous close. The advance was helped by a private estimate of 6 per cent decrease in acreage.

PISTOL USED IN MORGAN'S POINT MURDER IS FOUND

HOUSTON, March 28.—(AP)—A .25 calibre automatic pistol, long sought as a vital link in the Morgan's Point murder mystery, was held today by Detective Sergeant George Peyton, head of the Houston police department's homicide squad. The gun was traced through a telephone call in which a woman referred to it as the "pistol that boy was killed with."

Sergeant Peyton was at work on the case while attches of the district attorneys office were questioning Frank Clause, 18, known as Francois Champagne to his associates, who say that is his real name.

Clause, together with Clyde Barrow, 18, was charged with responsibility for the Morgan's Point tragedy in which Charles H. DEMAND FOR WOOL IN FOREIGN MARKET SHOWING INCREASE

WASHINGTON, March 31.—(AP)—(U. S. D. A.)—Demand for clothing wools stronger at London sales. Demand for clothing wools has increased the London wool sales. English and the continental users of woolen wools are evidently willing to accumulate stocks at present prices according to a cable received from A. E. Foley at London. Competition for combing wools, however, is slightly lower. The possibility of a strike over the proposed wage reduction has made top makers and worsted spinners less anxious to accumulate stocks. German and French combing mills have also been less active during the week. America is still buying greasy New Zealand wools at 24 to 25 cents for 44s and 48s and sliped 48s at about 25c per pound. Prices of combing wools on a scoured basis have been mostly unchanged to one cent higher since the opening of the sales on March 18 except 56s, which suffered a further decline of one cent. Mr. Foley has been unofficially advised that the wool sales may terminate on April 4 instead of April 10 since many colonial wiol owners have cables requesting the withdrawal of their wools until such time as prices advance.

OFFICES JEWELRY COMPANY IN BANK SKYSCRAPER ROBBED

TWO DAYLIGHT BANDITS SECURE VALUABLE LOOT AND MAKE ESCAPE

DALLAS, Mar. 29.—(AP)—Two robbers today held up the Pike & Kramer Jewelry company offices on the tenth floor of the Republic National bank building here and escaped with jewelry valued at between $15,000 and $20,000.

Irving L. Kramer, president, was alone in the offices when the men, well-dressed, entered. One of them kept him covered with a gun while his companion took the jewelry from show cases and put it in his pockets. They then fled after warning Kramer not to follow.

Kramer was at his desk at work when the robbers walked in and ordered him to stand up and keep his hands in the air. He said only one of the men appeared armed.

Safe Not Opened.

After gathering diamonds, watches and other jewelry from the cases, the robbers ordered the president to open the safe. Kramer explained he did not know the combination and all of his clerks were at lunch. Thousands of dollars worth of jewelry was said to have been locked in the safe.

Apparently satisfied with his explanation, the robbers backed quickly out of the door, threatening their victim if he pursued them.

It was presumed the men boarded an elevator and walked through the lobby, crowded during the noon rusb. The men appeared familiar with the establishment and selected a time when most of those working in the building were at lunch.

Police were notified immediately, and within a few minutes a city-wide man hunt was under way. Descriptions of the robbers were broadcast to all police stations.

Neatly Dressed.

People at work in adjoining offices knew nothing of the hold up until a general alarm was sounded.

Kramer said the men were neatly dressed without any particular thing about their appearance to attract attention. One wore a grey overcoat and the other a brown suit, he said.

No one came while the robbery was in process, the president related, but a customer entered within two minutes after they were gone.

The six elevator boys were questioned by detectives, but all said they had not noticed any person answering the description given by Kramer. The operators said, however, that the robbers could have boarded their cars without their noticing them because of the mid-day crowds.

Rangers Sent to Pampa Not For Election Tuesday

AUSTIN, March 31.—(AP)—Governor Moody declared today that two rangers in Pampa today were not there for the purpose of watching tomorrow's election but had been sent to investigate a specific case that had been reported to him.

"The men were not sent there anticipating trouble a the election," Governor Moody stated. "They had to go to Stinnett to attend court, and I requested them to stop by Pampa and investigate a complaint that had been made to me, and it had nothing to do with the arrest of Miss Beulah Allred, held on a liquor charge, either."

He said the rangers would not be in Pampa longer than it took them to get the information they were seeking, and doubtless they would return to Amarillo immediately.

EMHOUSE FARMERS FINALLY OWN THEIR FINE GINNING PLANT

We, the farmers of this community, six years ago, not knowing how to co-operate together and work to our own advantage, are thankful to say now we know how its done, and will gladly tell it to the world so that the farmers of other communities may take our advise on knowing how to work to their own advantage.

In 1925, only five years ago, in the early spring, with the aid of "wherever there is a will there is a way," we set to work striving for our Farm Labor Union gin, which we can now say, "Hurrah, it is ours!"

With the determination, "we can" a group of 100 farmers made notes and carried them to Dallas to the Murray Gin Co., and there we got our machinery, built our gin on the plan "we can."

The first year our struggle seemed hard and discouraging, but by pushing onward and working faithfully with the farmers for their own interest, who didn't belong to our Farm Labor Union, we have succeeded.

The farmers of Black Hill and Farmer have consolidated with us and now we have put the thing over. The second year found us still fighting for our freedom. The third, fourth the same,, but during the meantime, we were paying for our gin, our lot and a warehouse.

Five years have passed since our beginning and we were all looking forward to the day when our gin would be paid out of debt and a dividend coming back to each farmer. The day is here at last. This past fall we paid the remainder of our debt and had $5,100 in the treasury to be divided among we farmers.

A dollar and seventy-five cents was returned on each bale of cotton.

So, farmers, what are you going to do with your profit? Have you stopped to think your wife and children have been looking forward to this dividend? They have toiled and strived to make ends meet. So give them a big surprise by carrying home to them the profit which the other fellow has been making. Let them have the profit for home use. They need clothing and something to eat. With "11-cent cotton and toiling in the heat, how in the world can your family eat?" Clothes all worn out, shoes run down, old slouch hat with a hole in the crown.

So, farmers, think what you're doing. Are you letting the other fellow get your profit? Co-operate together and say, "we can."

Hurrah for the Farm Labor Union Gin of Emhouse! Our motto is: "We make it, let's gin it."

W. W. RAY of Emhouse.

CARD OF THANKS.

We wish to express our many, many thanks to those that were so good to us during the sickness of our dear wife and our mother. Also for the beautiful floral offerings. May God's blessing rest on each and every one is our prayer.

The dairyman told Deputy Sheriff Ed Wright and Walter Johnson, assistant county attorney, that he had been hijacked out of $170 and some property several weeks ago, and that he was susuicious when he heard a knock on the front door before daylight this morning.

Answering the knock with a pistol in his hand, Moore told officers he fired when the man standing on the porch demanded money. By the body officers found a revolver.

Kazmeier Baby Chicks

Kazmeier baby chicks are generally considered the best money can buy. Our chicks come from, trapnested, bloodtested and pedigree bred hens. Pullets raised from our chicks will lay from 40 to 100 eggs each more in a year, than pullets that are raised from ordinary chicks that do not come from trapnested hens. If you buy cheap chicks, you will have cheap pullets. It takes just as much feed, labor and house room to take care of a cheap, poorly bred pullet as a bred-to-lay pullet.

Buy Chicks From Trap-Nested Hens

We stand squarely behind every sale we make. We can guarantee 100 per cent live delivery of strong vigorous chicks. The following prices are shipping charges prepaid.

Say Fainting Spell Cost Flyer's Life

HUTCHINSON, Kas., March 31.—(AP)—A fainting spell was blamed by his friends today for the tail-spin which yesterday cost the life of Charles R. Moore, 35, Owatonna, Minn., aviator, near Albright Field here.

Moore's monoplane he was flying in a demonstration for the Baby Ace Aircraft Company of Wichita, crashed while he was stunting 2,500 feet above a large crowd.

MISSOURI PRISON DISCIPLINE TO BE MORE STRINGENT

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Mar. 28.—(AP)—Inaugurating an iron hand rule at the Missouri penitentiary today, scene of disorders for two days, guards clubbed fifteen unruly convicts this morning when they attempted to "get tough" as they were called from their cells.

The convicts were injured sufficiently to require treatment in the prison hospital. Some of them, the guards said, were accused of having beaten other prisoners for failing to join in yesterday's strikes and other acts of disorder.

A checkup showed that a total of 62 convicts had been treated at the hospital for injuries inflicted by guards or, in some cases, by their own companions.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., March 28.—(AP)—More than 3000 of the 4000 perisoners in the Missouri penitentiary were breakfastless this morning as the prison authorities began to put a new regime of stringent discipline into effect, following two mutinies of convicts in as many days.

Warden Leslie Rudolph said the time for feeding the striking prisoners in their cells had not been determined, but when they are fed, the prisoners will eat ts their first meal the same kind of "Irish stew" to which more than 700 of the men objected at the noon meal Wednesday when the mutiny started.

Factories at the prison were closed today with the exception of the chair factory, where 100 men who did not participate in the general strike yesterday, were working on some of the unfinished furniture left by the striking convicts when they laid down their tools yesterday.

The factories will be losed until Monday when they will open for business as usual the warden said. The men will either work or take the consequences of the new hard-boiled rules, Rudolph said.

Meantime, prison authorities were planning new regulations, designed, as the warden said, to change the institution from a Sunday school to a real prison." All radios will be taken from the cells of the prisoners. Playground privileges will be revoked, and the silent system in the dining rooms will be again placed in effect following several years of leniecy in this respect.

Late yesterday afternoon a number of the men who had no supper began to shout and raise a din in their cells. Deputy Warden W. D. Long went to the affected cell houses and ordered the men to be quiet. He instructed the guards to uso their clubs on any of the men violated the order. The cellhouse quieted instantly.

The prison authorities are quietly weeding out and segregating leaders in the movement for more food and less work and when the principal troublemakers are removed from the main body of the convicts the mutinous mood is expected to die out.

Tried Treat Men Right.

"I've tried to treat these men right," said Warden Rodolph. "The food has been good, and despite the extremely crowded conditions we have endeavored to use kindness instead of force. But the men failed to appreciate it, and from now on this prison will be ruled by force instead of kindness."

Blame for the trouble is ascribed by Waren Rudolph and other prison officials entirely to the lenient methods that have been in vogue and outside interference from welfare workers and persons who have criticized disciplinary methods in the institution. It has been a growing situation, the warden said, and finally has gotten to the place where about 200 convicts thought they could run the prison.

College, who addressed about forty pecan fanciers at the Corsicana Chamber of Commerce Friday morning, and later conducted a budding and grafting demonstration at the L. R. Nolen apairy on North Beaton street.

The success of the pecan business depends entirely on the individual the speaker declared; for it depends on the grower as to whether he will be satisfied to secure from twelve to fifteen cents a pound for his natives, or whether he desires prices ranging from 25 to fifty cents per pound for the better varieties in the paper shell group.

Pecans can compete favorably with any other line of farming as a money crop and constitutes an integral part of a balanced farm program. For many farmers the only thing needed to make their pecan trees real money makers is to clean up their groves and give the trees sufficient room for the growth they must have. Neither the risk nor investment of a cotton crop is necessary for pecans, and in many localities their returns is equal.

Many pecan authorities have overemphasized the necessities of budding and grafting, the horticulturist declared, but this is not the starting point in pecan culture. It is first necessary to prepare the stock for this treatment.

Clean Out Trees.

The first step advocated was to take an axe or a crosscut saw and use plenty of nerve in cleaning out the trees. If a group of laborers are used to clean out a grove in which a number of varieties of trees are growing, the cost will run approximately $25 per acre the speaker stated; but an equally efficient method is to use tree poison which will clear land at a cost of about $3 per acre and be equally effective. He advised that the producers be left alone, and also cautioned against leaving livestock in pastures where tree poison was used.

Pecans as a crop that can be cultivated in the idle periods between other crops was presented by the speaker. For example in the period between the time crops are "laid by" and cotton picking begins, a farmer might spend his time advantageously by clearing out his pecan groves; in the cold weeks about the first of the year, when it is impossible to work the ground, a man may keep warm and busy with tree topping.

For topping, the speaker advocated a special saw with plenty of set and wide teeth. Vigor of a tree and not its size was given as the determining factor for attention; the speaker advised that the smaller trees be worked first, enabling the worker to add considerable experience before he attempted the more difficult parts of his work.

Topping Discussed.

In topping, Mr. Rosborough advised that the main part of the tree be protected against slitting or other injuries during the process; in cutting the longer, heavier branches, two cuts should be made, the first to remove a considerable portion of the weight and the second to cut the branch to where it should be. After the cut has been made he advocated a light coat of shellack around the edges of the limb to prevent damage to the cells. After the entire topping process has been completed the limbs should have the cuts protected with a coat of asphalt paint; this type of paint was recommended because of its qualities of expansion and contraction.

What size trees should be worked for rough bark budding was a question for some difference of opinion according to the speaker, but the majority of the pecan experts advised against rough-bark budding if the branch measured more than an inch and a half in diameter at a distance of three feet from the main body of the tree. For branches over this size, late summer budding was advocated. He also advised against spending any time on weakling trees.

In response to questions, he advised the budding of the hardier native sprouts found this time of year; he also advised the grafting onto native stock rather than transplanted or nursery stock.

Trees topped in the winter can be budded late in the following spring and a bit later the sprouts can be thinned out. In the winter, the strings on the bud patches can be cut and the shoots cut back. If the new shoots showed tendencies of becoming too long the following spring they should be cut back. Annual pruning of trees is not necessary, the speaker asserted.

Variety is Important.

The question of variety should be carefully studied, Mr. Rosborough asserted, for it was very discouraging to carry pecan growing through a ten year period and at the end of that time find out the yield was not satisfactory because the wrong variety had ben selected. Navarro county was declared to be on about the dividing line between the places best adapted for the eastern and western varieties, and the use of the best adapted varieties from each section was advised.

The variety of pecans selected may improve the market price for the pecans of a section according to the speaker, because dealers know the characteristics of a certain pecan and are willing to pay premiums for that type.

Following the lecture the group adjourned to the L. R. Nolen apiary on North Beaton street where the various methods of budding and grafting were demonstrated.

Among those attending the lecture were W. P. Brown, Willard Parker, A. P. Mays, Donald Smith, J. M. Blackburn, J. D. Cunningham, Percy Blackburn, Clyde Rhodes, F. N. Drane, J. S. Millerman, Joe Sands, L. R. Nolen, Harve E. Ware, H. G. Johnston, Horace Johnston, E. C. Ross, John Willmann, J. M. Kerr, A. L. Thompson, A. C. Goodwin, Pleas Henderson, Sterling Gordon, Mortie Kerr, Robert Cooksey, J. B. Nichols, A. D. McMichael, and W. H. Phillips, negro demonstration agent.

LIMESTONE COUNTY AGENT ORGANIZING FARMS BOYS CLUBS

MEXIA, March 28.—(SP)—T. B. Lewis, Limestone county agent, is pushing the organization of boys clubs in Limestone county, a feature of his campaign to show the farmers the best methods of feeding livestock. Last year the club work was very successful, but an increased number of boys are joining the club this year.

At Frosa community there are 19 members. Five of them will feed baby beeves, eleven will feed pigs, and three are trying poultry. Eleven boys at Kirk have joined the pig club, while Ben Hur boys are divided. They will feed pigs, five baby beeves and thre poultry.

Twenty-four boys at Beulah will feed one or more pigs during the contest.

Limestone county, already claiming to be the most terraced county in Texas, is terracing a thousand acres more this year. Demonstrations of terracing were held recently at the farms of Mrs. W. L. Slaughter and W. E. Gantt at Farrar, at Fred Powell's place, near Mexia, and at Jim Sharp's place at Ft. Parker.

Poultry raising is taking more than unusal interest. Culling demonstrations are being held. One demonstration was held a few days ago at the home of Mrs. Ivy Bates at Davis Prairie.

Mr. Lewis says that some Limestoe farmers are learning to get by without so much cotton. He points to H. W. Tolson, of Pt. Enterprise, who sold $38 worth of butter and eggs during January, and $50 wrth in Feburary.

Hens Pay Profit.

Another incident where profits are made from the little things is cited by the county agent. Mrs. Simelton of Frosa, he says, kept a record on her 500 White Leghorn hens during the past year. They fed themselves, raised 500 pullets and cleared $1.85 per hen, she told Mr. Lewis. She plans to enter a pen in the A. & M. college egg laying contest.

Miss Cora Kirkman, home demonstration agent, has announced that final judging of the rooms in the living room contest will be between April 20 and May 1. She is pushing the "Four-H Pantry" as the big reature of the year's work, and reports good response. She has a plan to put a pressure canner in every one of the thirty women's and girl's clubs of Limestone county.

At Coolidge, A. B. Childers, vocational agriculture teacher, backed by the Lions club, will conduct a calf show in April as a feature of the Lions club effort to establish dairying. The club's subsidy to a truck line which takes whole milk to Waco has been discontinued when R. L. Lusk, driver, reported that the receipts of the line now make it pay without without the contribution from the town. He said one customer was netting $108 per month on her dairy herd, and is not cutting his farming activities.

JACKSONVILLE, March 29.—(AP)—Twenty-five per cent of the tomato plants already in fields were estimated to have been damaged by frost in this section last night. OLD "TWO TOES," KING OF TIMBER WOLVES, FELL VICTIM TO MAN AT LAST MEMPHIS, Tenn., March 28.—(AP)—Old "Two Toes," king of the timber wolves, must spend the remainder of his life behind bars at the Memphis zoo as penalty for crimes he committed when he led his pack through the forests of Arkansas.

After 10 years of freedom, the gaunt beast was outsmarted by men and dogs in Cross Country, Ark., yeserday and brought here.

"Two Toes," so named because he lost all his toes on his right hind paw except two, in traps, is famous in song and story in Eastern Arkansas. His pack killed sheep and goats by the hundreds and often cows and even bulls were pulled down. Always by the carcasses would be wolf prints and the mark of "Two Toes."

Skilled trappers sought him. Government hunters trailed him for days, but always he would lead his pack to safety.

Last week his pack slaughtered 14 goats in one day. It was murder, said Sheriff E. L. Cooper, so the law took a hand. Cooper and James Robertson, deputy prosecuting attorney, organized a hunt for the criminal. The best dogs in Eastern Arkansas were ordered.

Twenty-two hounds and their owners met the sheriff and Robertson in Wynne, Ark., yesterday and set out to capture "Two Toes." The hounds found him at dawn and followed him and his pack across the ridges. He tried many of his old tricks, doubled back and even went into the swamps. But the hounds kept their noses to the dirt.

Before 8 a. m. Two Toes' pack had scattered, and the king was sorely pressed. Thre hours later the hounds found him, exhausted and conquered, in a hollow log. The hunters spread a net around one end of the log and captured him.

He weighed 98 pounds. Government trappers said he was the largest wolf they had ever seen.

SPECIFICATIONS FOR IMPROVEMENT HIGHWAY APPROVED

Plans and specifications for the grading and drainage structures on State Highway 31, from the eastern boundary of Consolidated Road District No. 1, two miles east of Powell, to the Trinity river between Navarro and Henderson counties, have been completed and have been approved, according to an announcement Saturday afternoon by J. W. Alger, resident state highway engineer.

The field notes, location and other data necessary for the procuring of the right of way on this stretch of road will be available next week and it is expected that the committee of Kerens citizens who agreed to procure the right of way will begin its work next week.

According to present indications the contract for the grading and drainage structures on this stretch of road, slightly in excess of ten miles, will be let at the April meeting of the state highway commission.

This road is to be constructed by the state highway department to connect from the eastern boundary of Consolidated Road District No. 1 to the new $250,000 bridge spanning Trinity river between Navarro and Henderson counties and also connecting with the improved Highway 31 in Henderson county.

Work on the bridge crossing the Trinity river about a half mile north of the St. Louis-Southwestern Railway company bridge, is expected to get under way at once, as preliminary details have been completed and the necessary right of way procured.
